Canadian quotas threaten U. S. beef

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department expert said today that a new import quota system for livestock and meat shipped into Canada threatens to take a $100-million bite from U.S. farm exports.

Robert R. Anlauf of the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said further the quotas could "further aggravate an already difficult marketing situation" between the two countries.

Canada had been tightening import restrictions, particularly for cattle and beef for some time. Then, last April 9, the government flatly banned imports of slaughter cattle and beef unless they were certified as having never been exposed to the synthentic growth hormone, DES.

Canada later announced a new quota system beginning Aug. 12 and said that it would run for a full year. Meantime, a system of DES certification was agreed upon so that U.S. cattle and beef could begin entering Canada again this fall.

Anlauf, writing in a weekly issue of Foreign Agriculture, said the Canadian quotas apply also to other foreign suppliers such as Australia and New Zealand and thus could cause diversions of beef into the United States, the only major market where severe import curbs have not been put into effect.

Last week the American National Cattlemen's Association called for a complete embargo on imports of beef into the United States.

"Until other beef importing nations reopen their borders and absorb some of the world's beef surplus, U.S. cattlemen have no alternative but to insist upon an embargo on beef imports," Gordon Van Vleck, association president, said in Denver.

In his analysis today, Anlauf said Canada apparently wants to roll back U.S. cattle and beef imports to historical levels but fails to take into consideration what has happened lately regarding shifts in Canadian beef grading standards.

Anlauf said a new Canadian beef grading system in October 1972 resulted in a severe decrease in the supply of animals in lower-grade categories. As a result, animals that had previously been mostly in the top grades destined for hotel and restaurant consumption were discounted heavily and graded in lower categories.

"To meet the new requirements, Canadian cattle feeders shortened their feeding period to produce animals with less (fat) marbling and leaner beef," Anlauf said.

But, he said, the hotel and restaurant trade continued to demand the previously higher grades of beef. That helped prompt a large volume of U.S. grain-fed cattle and beef into the Canadian market.

The current quota system permits 82,835 live slaughter cattle from the United States to enter Canada during the year, plus 17.9 million pounds of fresh and frozen dressed beef. By comparison, in calendar 1973 about 185,000 head of U.S. cattle and 35 million pounds of meat moved into the Canadian market.

1 seriously injured in area traffic accidents

Only one serious injury was reported among the 17 persons injured in nine area traffic accidents over the weekend, the highway patrol announced today.

A Memphis, Tenn., woman suffered serious injuries and four persons received minor injuries in a three- car accident at 8 p.m. Saturday on Interstate 55 one mile north of Cape Girardeau.

The accident occurred during a heavy rainstorm when a northbound car driven by John E. Liltenquist, 34, of Nashville, Tenn., struck the back of two other northbound cars, driven by Barbara Daugherty, 39, of Memphis and Sammy Tumbs, 28, of Tyronza, Ark.

According to the highway patrol, the Daugherty car was being driven at a slow rate of speed because of the heavy rain and the Tumbs car was parked partially on the shoulder when the Lintenquist car struck them both at the same time.

Brenda Roberts, 23, of Memphis, a passenger in the Daugherty car, received serious injuries. Receiving minor injuries were Liltenquist and three passengers, Colleen Liltenquist, 35, Ruth Liltenquist, 4, and David Liltenquist, 3, of Nashville. All of the injured were taken to Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Two passengers in a car driven by Leon Johnson, 74, of Hayti were injured in a two- car accident at 11:20 a.m. Friday 1.7 miles west of Hayti on Highway 84.

The accident occurred when an eastbound tractor - trailer truck driven by Kerry Peterson, 22, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, overtook the eastbound Johnson car at a high rate of speed, was unable to stop and struck it from behind.

Edith Knighten, 56, and Ida Hall, 72, of Hayti Heights received minor injuries. Both were taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti.

A Caruthersville woman received minor injuries in a two - car accident at 8 p.m. Saturday on Route U two miles west of the Stubtown community in Pemiscot County.

The accident occurred when a westbound car driven by Charles Q. Moore, 75, of Memphis attempted a left turn into a private drive and pulled into the path of an eastbound car driven by George L. Young, 52, of Caruthersville.

Injured was a passenger in the Young car, Annie R. Young, 71, of Caruthersville, who was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital.

James Virgil Scarbrough, 51, of Arcadia received minor injuries at 8:15 p.m. Saturday on Route V eight miles west of Pilot Knob in Iron County when his car ran off the road and overturned.

He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Ironton.

August Berkbuegler, 80, of Perryville, received minor injuries at 7:50 a.m. Saturday on Highway 51 in Perryville when the southbound lawnmower he was riding was struck by a southbound station wagon driven by Charles Charles Sutton, 22, of Perryville.

Berkbuegler was taken to Perry County Hospital in Perryville.

A St. Louis man was injured in a two- car accident at 1:45 p.m. Saturday on Interstate 55 near the interchange with Highway 77

Armed bandit takes $605 from car wash

An armed man took $605 from Young's Car Wash, 1607 E. Malone Ave., about 4:30 p.m. Sunday, according to Det. Jack Patterson.

The man forced attendant Kenneth Lewis, 20, of 471 Greer, to open the safe and give him Saturday's receipts.

Lewis described the man as being in his 30s, about six feet tall and weighing about 200 pounds, with a red beard, and long red hair.

Patterson said Lewis described the gun as a small handgun.

The man entered the car wash through the south door, put the money in the bag and walked out the north door toward Malone Avenue. Lewis said he did not see a getaway car.

Morehouse man turned over to authorities

James E. Brown, 31, of Morehouse Route One, was arrested at 12:20 a.m. Sunday in a car allegedly stolen in Blytheville, Ark.

He was stopped by Sikeston police on Maude Street. Brown was later turned over to Arkansas authorities.

Merideth, 303 Broadway, speeding; John Hickman, of Canalou, public intoxication; Lawrence Woodrow Graham of Blodgett, careless and imprudent driving.

Tip leads to marijuana arrest

CHAFFEE — An informant's tip to Chief of Police Jimmy Dale Coats led to the arrest of 19-year - old Donnie Shelton near Scott City Sunday afternoon and a felony charge of possession of over 35 grams of marijuana.

Shelton was under surveilance for nearly three hours Sunday afternoon after the informant told of a man who was supposed to be on Main Street in Chaffee to pick up money from some buyers of marjjuana.

Scott City police stopped Shelton and made the arrest and turned up one marijuana cigarette, roach clip and a bag of marijuana. Authorities said Shelton discarded the bag when they began to search him.

Shelton is being held in the Scott County jail at Benton. No bond or arraignment date has been set.

A NEW TABERNACLE FOR A GROWING CHURCH

In the year 1839, Joseph Smith, prophet leader of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, or "Mormons", as members soon came to be called, journeyed to Washington to appeal to the President of the United States for justice. His people had been cruelly persecuted and driven from their homes in Missouri, and the state authorities had sided with the mobs. President Martin Van Buren heard him out, then dismissed him with the comment, "Your cause is just but I can do nothing for you." More persecution followed in Illinois, and even after the Mormon exodus to the Salt Lake valley, feelings ran strongly against this unique American church. Elements in Congress sought to deny a seat to one of the first Senators elected from Utah in 1902 because he was also a high official of the Mormon church.

This kind of religious prejudice fortunately seems to be a thing of the past in our country. This month the 16th and largest of the Mormon temples, situated in a Maryland suburb of our nation's capital, is opening its doors to public inspection. The magnificent, six-spired structure, sheathed in gleaming white marble, is expected to host nearly one million people prior to its dedication in November. It stands proudly against the skyline, symbol of a people's devotion to their God and of their deep concern with those things which pertain to Man's eternal existence.

Symbolizing also the respect with which the rapidly growing Mormon Church is now almost universally regarded, President Ford sat at the side of the current Mormon prophet - president, Spencer W. Kimball, as they listened together to the mighty Mormon Tabernacle Choir performing in concert during the ceremonies marking the temple opening.

It is good, for a change, to focus on that which elevates our minds and uplifts our spirits. Some of us dwell too much on the sordid and temporal aspects of life on earth. We need to be reminded that the struggles and problems, the triumphs and tragedies of this life may not be, after all, the things that really matter most when weighed against the perspective of eternity. The Mormons spread their faith and build their temples in the conviction that this is so.

We believe part of the reason that business and industry have been unable to get the story of enterprise across to the public can be laid at the doors of legislators and educators who have devoted their careers to telling voters and young people how lousy American businessmen are and how selfish private enterprise exploits consumers. As a result of this undercutting, there has been a slow erosion of confidence in the entire American system.

If it continues to follow the pattern of the past, it is likely industry and agriculture will continue to be blamed for every crisis. Each difficulty will be seized upon by those who advocate government ownership as a solution to give the American people the illusion of better days to come and conceal, in many cases, the past mistakes of government. Politicians bearing "free gifts" should be suspect as never before.

IRS GROWS ANOTHER HEAD

Taxpayers have long been conscious of Uncle Sam looking over their shoulders as they made out their return. He's now grown another head — that of the state in which the taxpayers lives.

Presently, 48 states and the District of Columbia have "agreements of co-operation" with the federal Internal Revenue Service on the exchange of information about taxpayers, reports Commerce Clearing House. Only Nevada and Texas, which have no state income tax, lack such agreements.

The expanding use of automatic data processing equipment at both state and federal levels has sharply increased the amount and variety of information shared. Such is the interplay that an audit by the state tax collector can trigger one by the federal government as well.

Moreover, a growing number of states are basing their income tax laws on the Internal Revenue Code. This conformity between state and federal tax laws also increases the flow of information between the taxing authorities.

Now the states themselves are swapping information about tax returns. As of June, 1973, 21 states had signed a reciprocal exchange of information agreement designed by the Multistate Tax Commission.

If it is any consolation to taxpayers, Commerce Clearing tax returns are given special emphasis in these agreements.

WHY SHOULD HE HAVE LENIENCY?

Most of the young men President Nixon gathered about him have been convicted and gone to prison. Is there any reason why lenience should be shown the boss who advised with them daily? And his salary of $200,000 a year, plus free room and board, plus almost unlimited expense, plus huge amounts for the purchase of his California and Florida homes, were not enough pay him out. His attorney is asking Congress for some $800,000 to help him pay his debts.

THE NEWEST MODEL EDSEL

One of the most timely and interesting editorials we read in our exchanges last week was Mike Sell's paragraph in the Monroe City News headed. "Mr. Ford is an Edsel." We'll agree with Mike, if Jerry Ford continues as he has begun his time as President of the United States, he'll end up like the Ford Edsel. There was no more interested and enthusiastic backer of President Ford when he went into office than we were. He looked like the leader who would take us into the promised land. Of course we are a Democrat, but we think Teddy Roosevelt was one of the greatest, and Abraham Lincoln was the greatest President we have ever had. Both were Republicans, yet we are losing faith all the time with Gerald Ford.

Thinking over what we wrote above, we get our mind on today's "plea bargaining," a popular practice with our law enforcers. It is so easy for them to get a plea of guilty from a person charged with a crime, if the charge is reduced. Over at Quincy last week a man charged with stealing and also with escaping jail and assaulting an officer, made a plea of guilty when the charges of jail escape and assault were dropped.

IS 1972 MANDATE FINISHED UNDER FORD?

According to some political experts, Gerald Ford seems to be repudiating conservatism. And in rejecting conservatism, Ford, a President by chance rather than popular choice, is also rejecting the 1972 mandate, the last time the people in this country made their views felt on a nationwide basis.

In 1972, the Nixon Administration gathered their historic majority by taking stands wholly opposite to those of McGovern. They repeatedly opposed quotas, amnesty, liberalized abortion, busing, permissiveness, welfare spending and centralized government. Nixon opposed "any new spending program that would add to the tax burden of the American wage earner," wanted to reduce the property tax and offered tax credits for parents sending their children to parochial schools.

Furthermore a nationwide Gallup survey this spring showed that while the Republican party affiliation is at an all-time low, the number of voters who describe themselves as conservatives is at a record high.

In terms of political philosophy, noted Gallup, 38 per cent of the voters currently describe themselves as conservative, while only 26 per cent place themselves in the liberal camp, with 36 per cent undecided. The proportion classifying themselves as conservatives is the "highest record since the question was first asked in 1936."

The party breakdown by Gallup is even more interesting. In the Republican party, conservatives outnumber liberals 57 per cent to 11 per cent, with 32 per cent undecided. In the Democratic party, conservatives equalled liberals, 32 per cent to 32 per cent. And among the independents, conservatives outnumbered liberals 35 to 29, with 36 per cent undecided. When pressed, the majority of undecided voters called themselves conservatives.

Instead of downplaying conservatism, Ford should embrace it. Indeed, Gallup himself argued at the GOP Governor's Association in Memphis last year that his own surveys show the word "conservative" is far more popular than the word "Republican" and that "it might be better to have the name 'Conservative' than the name 'Republican' if one were running for office."

So since Ford is filling out the term that mandated this conservative change, he owes it to the American people, we think, to try to implement it.

Much has been said about election reform, and, while it is reported that passage of measures to restrict union campaign spending are considered unlikely, debate over the issue will help to draw public attention to the heavy hand of compulsion that rests on the shoulders of millions of American citizens who must join a union to buy the right to earn a living. Compulsory unionism infringes not only economic liberty but political liberty as well.

THE POWER OF NATURE

The tragedy left in the wake of hurricane Fifi serves to remind us all that the forces of nature can be cruel and are still unchecked by the science of man. As destructive as Fifi and some of her sisters have been, however, man's chances of survival are much better now than they were in earlier years and this is because of the great advances made in weather forecasting. Relief for survivors can be marshaled much faster, too.

From its very inception, the U.S. space program came under attack from some quarters, especially the ultra- liberal element which argued that it took dollars from the dole. The space shots have more than paid for themselves in advancing peaceful science, and that includes the amazing space satellites. Space platforms with highly sensitive photographic equipment record the weather patterns of the earth and feed them to the meteorological centers. Hurricane Fifi, for example, was exposed even when it was still in a "tropical low" formation and its development into a killer storm was constantly photographed. All the areas that would be its target were warned.

The mechanical satellites are not alone in this vital work. Planes and ships of the military services report the storm build-up. Daring military pilots plunge into the raging winds. All of these advanced means of detection are a tribute to our weather forecasting and allied services.

Meanwhile, research continues as the scientists seek ways of destroying killer storms. "Seeding" efforts have proved ineffective so far but eventually man probably will be able to control his environment. HLH

Secret United Nations: U.S. investigators reveal UN officials refuse to report on handling of huge funds

UNITED NATIONS— Very clever people, these Peking Chinese Communists. Though far from the Yangtze, they're successfully attempting to turn this multi- national glass tower into a prototype Forbidden City on the East River.

Led by Mao Tse-tung's special UN Ambassador Huang Hua, the mainland Chinese have been feuding with a door-sized gray marble slab which once hung in the second- floor corridor between the great Assembly Hall and the delegates' lounge. Reason: The big stone ornament was donated originally by the Republic of China (Taiwan). So U Thant, then UN Secretary General, eased the first crisis by removing from under the big stone a plaque saying that it was the gift of the Taipei government which, of course, has been ousted though anti-Communist China was among the founding forces at the 1945 United Nations organizaing session in San Francisco.

Then Mao outlawed Confucius. Which was unfortunate for the beautiful stone salb. It has the great sage's quotation, selected by the honored Sun Yat-sen, engraved on it. The words are of harmony and love of family, and advise on the selection of one's rulers for their talents. When the delegates gathered for the opening of the General Assembly's 29th session, the huge stone had disappeared. UN Secretary General Kurt Waldheim had ordered it removed.

Why? Officially no one knows. This is much like the rest of UN operations. There are two new special General Accounting Office (GAO) reports disclosing that it is virtually impossible to get documented information on the UN operations, on the a f f i l i a t e d subsidiary organizations such as the C h i l d r e n ' s F u n d, the I n t e r n a t i o n a l L a b o r Organization, the World Health O r g a n i z a t i o n, the UN Development Program and, of special interest right now, the UN Food and Agriculture Organization.

Bluntly the GAO has reported to Congressmen that the United States simply doesn't know what happens to the millions of dollars we pay in to the world organization, nor can it get authenticated information on vital operations in UN headquarters here or its special organizations abroad.

So there can be no doubt of the seriousness of the charges against the UN which makes s u c h p r e t e n t i o u s pronouncements, which now is so severely critical of the U.S., and in which the overwhelming majority of nations are ranged a g a i n s t t h e W e s t e r n democracies and in favor of C o m m u n i s t lands and programs, here is what the respected GAO investigators say:

"The U.S. system for appraising proposed projects, m o n i t o r i n g t h e i r implementation and evaluating results is not meeting the needs for effectively managing p a r t i c i p a t i o n i n t h e organizations.

"Despite U.S. efforts to obtain better information on proposed activities, the quality and depth of information has not perceptibly improved." And in another GAO report there is a polite, but direct, statement that no one appears to know just how effectively the UN internal organization is operating. Says the GAO:

"(UN) Budget and review process weaknesses take on added significance, considering teh limitations in UN internal review report availability to member countries. The UN Joint Inspection Unit, the one review group reporting to members on substantive management and program issues, is not capable of providing them with adequate i n f o r m a t i o n o n t h e effectiveness and efficiency of the United Nations."

There is no "relevant and reliable information on management proposals and performance" available.

Thus the UN under Kurt Waldheim is constantly pirouetting on the razor edge of bankruptcy. For example, member nations owe it $204 million in back dues and assessments. Many countries just don't pay up. We do. They withhold their money when they disagree with the purpose of a project, such as peacekeeping in the Middle East. We always pay. Regardless of policy.

Further, we can't get into the inner mechanism. The GAO says that the UN general s e c r e t a r i a t (central administration) doesn't hire enough American citizens. Thus we are underrepresented in the daily operations of the UN here itself and in the affiliated organizations. The Russians are not. The Chinese are moving their people in as swiftly as they can train them. We have been fighting for a strengthened auditing and management operation to prevent what must in full realism be described as the seizure of the United Nations by the Communist and "third world" blocs -- despite the Sino- Soviet feuding.

This is being done by the handful of mysterious men and women wandering these corridors who control the inner m a n a g e m e n t. Most organization evaluations are "either internal reviews, not generally reported to the governing bodies or fiscal reviews that contain little substace on management and administrative activities."

In less polite and more starkly realistic language, the United Nations is one big secret organization except for the up- front panoply.

To rip this open, we are f i g h t i n g f o r a single independent review body. This is an effort to strengthen the UN Joint Inspection Unit. Its "capabilities, however, have not been improved -- it remains under- staffed, lacks permanent status, and suffers from inadequate leadership and direction."

Actually this smacks of more than inefficiency. Some might call it corruption. Why is there no real audit of moneys and operations? This UN internal secrecy is at the very least moral and political corrosion -- or corruption. Small wonder no one appears able to find even a big stone slab. All this would have confounded even Confucius.

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Kennedy Kidnaping Scare

WASHINGTON — The public has yet to learn the full story behind the kidnaping scare that brought more than 60 Secret Service agents racing from all points of the country two weeks ago to protect the late Sen. Robert Kennedy's children. Here are the exclusive details:

The Secret Service's duties are strictly defined by law and do not include guarding the progeny of deceased Senators.

Yet for one full week, on orders from the White House, the agents provided emergency, round- the - clock protection for the Kennedy kids. Before the affair was over, the bodyguard service was also extended to a newphew, Christopher Lawford, son of actor Peter Lawford and Patricia Kennedy.

One agent, standing watch outside a Harvard University blowout attended by one of the boys, even suffered the indignity of having to duck a urinary sprinkle. A raucous party raged inside, and one of the partygoers urinated out the window.

The same agent later stood by in astonishment as local police descended upon the scene and barged past him into the building to quiet the reveling students.

The kidnaping threat, based upon a third- hand tip from a police informant in the Boston area, turned out to be bogus. By conservative estimate, the false alarm cost the taxpayers about $126,000.

The bizarre affair began on unlucky Friday, September 13. Some shady characters, according to the tip, had been talking about kidnaping David and Robert Kennedy, Jr., both of whom attend Harvard.

The information was relayed to the FBI, which immediately launched an investigation. Meanwhile, Ethel Kennedy, the anxious mother, was alerted. Her first thought, of course, was to protect her children. She knew from experience that the Secret Service has the world's best bodyguards, so she made an urgent request for federal protection.

Secret Service Director Stuart Knight, knowing he had no authority to protect the Kennedy children, agonized with his associates over the request. He personally drove out to the Kennedy estate in McLean, Va., to explain to Ethel how his hands were tied.

But he was overruled by his boss, Treasury Secretary William Simon, who took up the kidnaping threat with the White House. Back came word from presidential counselor Phil Buchen: protect the Kennedy kids.

Simon ordered the Secret Service into action on Saturday, September 14. Then he phoned Ethel Kennedy to reassure her.

My associate Joe Spear spoke with Simon, who said he had frequently been threatened with physical harm and, therefore, had "empathy for people in public life." Considering the suffering the Kennedy family has been through, he said, "this was one of the easier decisions I have ever made."

Word was received on Wednesday, September 18, that the supposed kidnapers really had their eye on Ethel K e n n e d y ' s n e p h e w, Christopher Lawford, who attends Tufts University in Medford, Mass. So a protective detail was dispatched to cover the Lawford boy.

The intensive FBI investigation, meanwhile, turned up no substantial leads. So about 4:30 p.m. on Friday, September 20, the Secret Service protection was lifted.

Watergate Tactics: -- A holdover from ex- President Nixon's infamous "Attack Group" is using Watergate tactics to destroy a white civil servant who has sought to help the most downtrodden ghetto blacks.

The holdover is Edward Failor, now in charge of the Commerce Department's statistics, who controls a $100-million operation and 7,000 employes.

This was his reward for undeviating loyalty to the "Attack Group," headed by convicted White House aide Charles Colson. The group's purpose was to discredit 1972 Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern by unscrupulous but legal means.

Failor was first installed in a federal mine safety job which, according to the General Accounting Office, he fouled up. He was quietly moved over to the Commerce Department over the objections of professionals who considered him totally unqualified.

Internal memos show he is now using salami-style tactics to cut up a Census Bureau official, John Casserly, who has been seeking ways to get 1.8 million "missing Americans" to take part in the 1980 census.

These are the most depressed ghetto blacks who were not counted in 1970. Because they represent 7.7 per cent of all blacks, the entire black community lost millions in federal and state aid based on census statistics.

The memos show that Casserly took steps to get these "missing Americans" on the census rolls. For his efforts, he was summoned before Failor and was told his proposal was "stupid."

His voice rising, Failor said the proposal was a "huge mistake" and demanded to know whether Casserly had "any problems."

"I have no problems," replied Casserly.

"You may well have in the future," shot back Failor.

This turned out to be prophetic. Failor and his census chief, Vincent Barabba, a Nixon campaign pollster in 1972, began giving Casserly a bad time. His staff was slashed, and he came under sudden investigation.

FOOTNOTE: Failor conceded he called the Casserly proposal "stupid," but only because it was full of false statements. He admitted Casserly is in trouble because of his proposal, but said this is purely because it shows "bad judgment." Both Failor and Barabba defended their policies toward the blacks.

First quarter interest earns state $7 million

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The state earned $7.4 million in interest on investments for the first quarter of the 1974-75 fiscal year, state Treasurer James I. Spainhower said today.

That is $2.2 million higher then the first quarter of last year and was the highest amount ever earned by the state for a three-month period.

"A large portion of the increased interest is due to an investment procedure which results in an average of 90 to 95 per cent of available state funds in interest earning accounts," Spainhower said.

"When I took office 74 per cent of our funds were earning interest. We have increased that by about 20 points and are now taking full advantage of the prevailing high interest rates."

If state investments continue to earn at present interest rates, Spainhower said, the 1973-74 record $22.4 million in interest earnings may be surpassed.

"Over-all," Spainhower said, "the economic condition of Missouri's state government is very sound."

Williams has admitted killing the woman, Stone said, but will make no further statement.

According to witnesses, Williams and the woman were struggling and wound up in the kitchen. Witnesses heard three shots fired, but nobody claims they actually saw the shooting, since it was back in the kitchen, Stone said.

The murder weapon was a .38 caliber pistol and is being held as evidence.

The woman also had a .38 caliber pistol, Stone said, but had fired no shots from it.

Charges have not been filed as of noon today. A spokesman for the prosecuting attorney's office said the matter is still being investigated.

Burglars got into the building through a window fan on the southwest side of the building.

World News

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica today ordered a separate Watergate cover-up trial for former White House aide Gordon Strachan.

The order leaves five defendants to face charges in the main cover-up trial scheduled to begin Tuesday.

Strachan's lawyer, John M. Bray, told reporters as he left the U.S. District Courthouse today, "we've been severed from the cover-up case."

The action had been requested by Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Sirica also was expected to rule today on whether he will allow typed transcripts to be used along with some 33 presidential tapes the prosecution wants as evidence at the trial.

Legislation to combat welfare fraud urged

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Legislation to combat welfare fraud and a federal government takeover of Aid to Dependent Children payments have been recommended by a Missouri Senate committee studying welfare.

The ADC payments in Missouri are $39 a month for the mother or guardian, $51 a month to the first child and $30 a month for each additional child.

Reduction of paperwork for welfare workers, giving more independence to county welfare offices and better treatment for welfare clients were among the recommendations released by the Senate Information Office.

Similar recommendations were made earlier by a House committee investigating welfare.

On the Senate committee are Democrats Robert Young of St. Ann, Raymond Howard of St. Louis, Mary Gant of Kansas City, Ike Skelton of Lexington, and Republicans Richard Webster of Carthage, Paul Bradshaw of Springfield and Emory Melton of Cassville.

Some of the recommendations, such as setting up a fraud squad, were endorsed by Lawrence Graham, new director of the Social Services Department.

"It seems to me, after these hearings, that our legislature should be reviewing big programs like this on an annual basis to make sure we're getting value received for our tax dollars," Young said.

One recommended law would eliminate the present property maximum of $10,500 for ADC families and provide instead a homestead exemption.

Also recommended was enough money for the attorney general to hire staff to enforce a strong antifraud law.

The committee also recommended including the natural father in the ADC unemployed parent program, and setting up a fund to pay for vocational job training for those on ADC.

The committee suggested the Senate Appropriations Committee review administrative practices of the Welfare Division, including duplication of staffing between programs and reduction of the eligibility and overpayment error rates to not more than 8 per cent.

A study last year showed the error rate for overpayments and ineligibles to be 21 per cent in Missouri.

Sen. Tinnin will push for death penalty bill

Veteran 25th District Sen. Nelson B. Tinnin of Hornersville, who has seen death penalty bills fall by the wayside in the past two sessions of the Missouri Legislature says he definitely supports such a law and will push for passage of a strong measure.

Tinnin made his comments in an interview with Daily Standard State Editor Ron Jaynes while attending the Truman Day rally Friday night at Poplar Bluff.

"The Supreme Court has ruled that state laws on death penalties must be specific," Tinnin noted as he spoke about Sikeston State Rep. C. F. Cline's recent announcement that he would present a bill in the next session of the legislature.

"His (Cline's) release on the subject more or less covered the waterfront on first-degree murder," Tinnin noted. "If one passes ... it must be specific. The jury has no say so in this matter, only to determine if the person or persons are guilty. If guilty, the penalty would be automatic."

Tinnin said previous measures have not been specific, which has one of the main reasons they were laid aside and failed to gain support.

"In 1973 and 74, we had a lot of opposition from criminal lawyers in the Senate," Tinnin stated. "In 1975, some of those won't be there.

"Both times death penalty measures were erased for time. We might have been able to pass one, but both sessions were short and other matters were placed before it.

"I definitely feel like it is a deterrent to crime," Tinnin said. "We'll have a nine-month session this time and the measure should come to a vote."

Tornado does minor damage

WARDELL — A tornado touched down in this area about 7:30 p.m. Saturday, causing minor damage, mostly to trees and power lines.

The most damage reported in town was a tree which blew down and fell across an unoccupied truck.

The tornado traveled in a northeasterly direction and touched down again on the Billy Welch farm two miles northeast of Wardell, overturning a cotton trailor and blowing over trees and power lines.

It also touched down four miles northeast of town on a farm owned by Billy Ward, destroying an unoccupied house trailer.

$1,256,589 grant approved

CHARLESTON — A grant of $1,256,589 has been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development for construction of 50 units of turnkey housing, according to an announcement issued Friday by the offices of Sens. Stuart Symington and Thomas Eagleton and Rep. Bill Burlison.

Tanna Parish, director of urban renewal in Charleston, said today the 50 units will be constructed in the city's west side urban renewal area north of Marshall Street.

Urban West Developers, Inc. of St. Louis will construct the units which will be purchased by the Charleston Housing Authority when completed.

A date for the start of construction has not been determined.

one mile east of Benton.

The accident occurred when a northbound car driven by Donald Rooks, 21, of Highland, Ind., attempted to pass a northbound station wagon driven by James Randolph Winter, 32, of Versailles, Pa., and struck it in the rear.

Injured was Albert Freeman Jr., 31, of St. Louis, a passenger in the Rooks car, who was treated for minor injuries at Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Three Caruthersville youths received minor injuries in a one-car accident at 5:30 p.m. Sunday on a gravel road three miles north of Hayti.

The accident occurred when a westbound car driven by Bryan Oatsvall, 18, of Caruthersville ran off a wooden bridge at a high rate of speed and overturned on its top.

Injured were three passengers in the car, Joey Richardson, 16, David Craig, 16, and Bruce Sams, 15, of Caruthersville. All three were taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital.

Two Hayti residents received minor injuries in a two-car accident at 5:10 p.m. Sunday on Braggadocio Road in Hayti Heights.

The patrol reported the accident occurred when James L. King, 25, of Hayti lost control of his car while traveling at a high rate of speed, and it slid sideways into the path of a southbound car driven by Edward Hightower, 45, of Hayti.

Injured were King and a passenger in the Hightower car, Lucy Mae Jones, 41, of Hayti. Both were taken to the Pemiscot County hospital.

Earl Ford, 83, of Ellington received minor injuries at 8:45 a.m. today on Route HH on top of Clearwater Dam when his eastbound car struck the back of a farm tractor driven by Charles Gentles, 55, of Piedmont.

The patrol reported that Ford apparently failed to notice the tractor soon enough and when he applied his brakes, the car skidded into the tractor.

He was taken to Wayne County Medical Center at Piedmont.

At Wits End By Erma Bombeck

I saw an ad in the paper the other day that intrigued me. It said simply, "WANTED: Christian woman to do ironing."

Is there any other kind who irons?

If someone had told me before I got married that I would stand like a statue for six hours every week in front of a board with three pounds of steam and heat in my right hand and push it back and forth over a PRIMO beer sweatshirt, I would have called off the wedding.

I once lived next door to a Christian woman who ironed. Every Monday she would put up her ironing board and wheel out one of those baskets on legs and iron each piece as it came. I could have watched her for hours.

She ironed sheets, dish towels, socks, belt buckles, underwear, the tongues in tennis shoes, the binding on blankets and even zippers. I never saw such a martyr. One day I couldn't believe my eyes. She pulled her husband's shirt out of the basket and after painstakingly ironing both sides of the collar and cuffs, she ironed the front and started to iron the back.

"Are you crazy?" I shouted, ripping the shirt off the board. "Now you've gone too far."

"What are you talking about?" she asked.

"Ironing the back of a man's shirt. Are you bucking for canonization?"

It is just not woman's natural inclination to take to ironing. One of my friends hired a woman to iron after the birth of her fourth child. She still retains her and the kid is 35 years old now.

Some hold theories that the aversion to ironing is genetic. This would seem to be the case as both my sister and I iron only during the months when oysters are in season -- off the coast of Thailand.

Our phone conversations run something like this:

"Joe needs a shirt."

"You going to iron one?"

"No, make one."

"When are you going to iron?"

"During the next space launch, providing the month has an R in it."

I'll tell you something,, world. When you are as behind in your ironing as I am, you'd settle for a woman who worshipped avocados during a full moon!

Surprise your little ones with a combination of their favorite foods. Combine one-fourth cup peanut butter and two tablespoons of lemon juice to make a smooth paste. Add one-third cup evaporated milk and one teaspoon honey and dash of salt. Blend thoroughly and chill. Spoon drained canned fruit cocktail into lettuce cups and top each serving with a generous portion of peanut butter dressing.

Marilyn Henderhan wed to Stobaugh

CANALOU — Marilyn Henderhan of Sikeston and Michael Stobaugh of Matthews were united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 30 in the Canalou Baptist Church. The Rev. Fred Ritter performed the double- ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leo Meiser of Williamstown, W. Va., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Stobaugh of Matthews.

Jan Helms of Matthews was pianist. Marki Ford of Cape Girardeau sang and accompanied herself on a guitar.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by Cline Ables of Sikeston, wore a formal gown of white crepe.

The gown featured an empire waist and a neckline with stand-up collar. The fitted bodice was accented with self- covered buttons down the front. The long bishop sleeves featured wide cuffs which were closed with covered buttons. The A-line skirt swept into a chapel-length train, and the gown was fully underlined.

The bride's hairpiece was of satin leaves and flowers with ribbons tied in love knots. She carried a bouquet of white roses and yellow daisies.

Mrs. Cathy Daniels of Matthews was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Deanna Tabor of Sikeston and Mrs. Debbie Estes of Shinnston, W. Va.

Chuck Daniels of Matthews was best man, and groomsmen were Lee Beck of Matthews and Steve McElyea of Sikeston.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church. Servers were Peggy Grissom of Charleston, Sharon Collins and Carla Richey of Sikeston and Pam Martin of Lowell, Ohio. Mrs. Judy Stobaugh of Matthews attended the guest register.

Following a wedding trip to St. Louis, the couple is at home at 411B N. Kingshighway.

The new Mrs. Stobaugh teaches at Hearnes Elementary School in Charleston. Stobaugh is employed by Eby Distributing Co. in Matthews.

The bride is a graduate of Newport High School in Newport, Ohio, and Salem College, in Salem, W. Va. The groom is a graduate of Matthews High School.

UM—C offers competition in 8 sports for women

COLUMBIA — The most comprehensive women's athletic program in the history of University of Missouri - Columbia is under way as competition in eight sports is either in progress or in the planning stage.

The golf and field hockey teams have started their schedule, and both will be in action this week. The golfers battle Iowa State Friday and Saturday at Ames, and the field hockey squad is at home against Central Missouri State Friday. The 4:30 p.m. hockey encounter will be played on Ag Field at the intersection of College and Rollins.

UMC's volleyball team concluded tryouts last week. Coach Debbie Duren must select 18 players for the squad from 45 women trying out. The volleyball team opens at Central Missouri State Oct. 5.

Thirty-five women attended the initial organization meeting for swimming. Coach David Howell has provided a flexible practice schedule to allow individuals plenty of time to improve strokes and times. Swimmers are working with kick boards and pull buoys to achieve maximum leg and arm strength.

Track and field is the sport added to the women's agenda this year. Forty individuals, ranging from beginners to fairly seasoned tracksters, have indicated an interest in the program. UMC's men's track coach, Bob Teel, and the women's coach, Alexis Jarrett, met with the individuals at 7:30 p.m. Thursday to explain plans for the spring sport. Even though tryouts won't be held until January, the women will begin conditioning workouts on Tuesday.

Basketball practice also gets underway Tuesday, and will run for a four- week period. According to Coach Jarrett, practice will consist primarily of conditioning drills with emphasis on shooting, dribbling and floor work coming after team tryouts Oct. 28-31. The 18-member squad will comprise both A and B teams. The first Mizzou contests are Nov. 29- Dec. 1, when the Tigers travel to Springfield for the annual Turkey Tourney.

The number of women interested in the athletic program neared 300 when over 50 individuals attended the softball organizational meeting last week. Softball tryouts are scheduled for mid-winter.

For the life of it, bread and the "Day of Bread" deserve thoughtful consideration. Enriched bread is a perishable food. It is one of the few perishable products made from relatively non perishable ingredients-- like wheat and flour.

How bread is stored affects its eating qualities. Enriched bread may be stored in the refrigerator to retard mold, but the longer the refrigeration period, the firmer the bread becomes. Refrigeration tends to increase staling. Special wrappers or special containers do not offset the affects of cool temperature on bread freshness.

Freezing bread for a short time, however, keeps it in its fresh- from- the- oven condition, especially when reheated after thawing.

Lutheran women plan rally

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The Southeast Missouri zone of Lutheran Women's Missionary League will sponsor its 57th semi-annual rally on Oct. 9 at Hanover Lutheran Church, with the Rev. A. Rajaian, a native of India who attends Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, as featured speaker.

"Ye Shall be Witnesses" has been chosen as the theme for the rally which will begin at 10 a.m.

The Rev. Mr. Rajaian will speak on the theme, "Our Mission Concerns" and will highlight his presentation with slides.

The Rev. Mr. Rajaian was born in 1933 as a Hindu. In 1937, he, his parents and other members of the family became Christians, and he was educated in mission schools.

He received training at Concordia Seminary in Nagercoll, India, from 1961 to 1964. During 1964-1966 he served on a fellowship at the seminary, and from 1966 to 1969, he was pastor there. In 1970, the Rev. Mr. Rajaian earned his master of sacred theology degree from Concordia Seminary at St. Louis.

From September 1970 until recently, he served as professor at Concordia Seminary in Nagercoll, India. Currently, he is on study leave for one year for advanced studies in Old Testament on a scholarship from the World Mission Institute, which is sponsored by Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

The Rev. Mr. Rajaian is the father of six children. He will rejoin his family in India next year.

Glazed canned cling peaches will enhance most any entree. There are endless flavors of glazes but here are three suggestions--mint jelly, orange marmalade and red currant jelly. Add drained peaches, half cup jelly and heat, basting peaches with jelly. Serve warm.

A new book by Dr. Erwin DiCyan, entitled "Vitamins In Your Life," concentrates on research findings since 1960 about food, nutrition and the need for vitamins and trace elements (micronutrients).

In this perplexing field, "yesterday's superstition becomes today's dogma, and conversely, yesterday's facts become today's delusions," Dr. DiCyan observes.

Family size declining

JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri is rapidly becoming a state of small families, according to birth statistics for the first half of 1974 reported by the Missouri Division of Health's Department of Social Services. The report indicated that decline in the state's overall birth rate has slowed this year but births in larger families continue to drop sharply.

Dr. Herbert R. Domke, director of the Division of Health, said 33,829 births were recorded in Missouri during the first six months of 1974, or only 1.2 per cent less than the 34,257 births during the same part of 1973. This decrease compared to over 5 per cent decline between 1972 and 1973.

Domke said the number of first, second and third children born during the first half of 1974 actually went up 1 per cent but this increase was offset by a 15 per cent decrease in fourth and higher orders of birth. He said there were 29,747 first, second and third births, 319 more than in 1973, but only 4,082 higher order births, 747 fewer than last year.

Garland Land, director of the Missouri Center for Health Statistics, reported that this trend to smaller families has been evident for the last 10 years. He pointed out that in 1964 almost one of every three Missouri births was a fourth or more child in the family, as compared to this year when only one birth in eight was the mother's fourth child or more. "If the trend continues," Land said, "families with four or five children may soon be as unusual as young families with eight or 10 children are now."

Land also reported that the composition of many Missouri families is changing due to the rising dissolution (divorce) rate. He said the 21,177 marriage dissolutions granted during 1973 cause the realignment of families that affected 23,137 children – infants to teen-agers.

The dissolutions last year resulted in more than 23,000 children living, at least temporarily, in families with only one parent present, which in most cases was the mother. The 1973 rate of 4.6 dissolutions for each 1,000 state residents set an all-time high for this statistic which was 59 per cent above the 2.9 rate in 1963 when 12,652 marriages were dissolved, affecting 14,071 children.

It had been predicted that the so-called "no-fault divorce" law, which became effective Jan. 1 of this year might accelerate the rising dissolution rate. However, no increase has been observed in provisional data for the first half of this year. The exact 1974 rate is not know, Land explained, due to widespread late reporting caused by new reporting procedures required in the law.

Domke said the sharp decline in fourth and higher orders of birth was statewide. In the St. Louis metropolitan area, these births accounted for 18 per cent of all births during 1971 but only 12.9 per cent in the first six months of 1974. In the Kansas City metro area, the percentage has dropped from 14.6 in 1971 to only 10.5 this year, while in outstate Missouri the decline has been from 16 to 12 per cent.

The St. Louis metro area had 13,059 births, down 1.1 per cent from 13,192 last year. Only 1,680 of the 1974 births were a fourth or more child in the family, a decrease of 15.5 per cent from the previous year.

Total births in the Kansas City metro area dropped 1.5 per cent, from 6,550 last year to 6,451 this year. Included were 680 fourth and higher order births, or 22.2 per cent less than in 1973.

A total of 14,319 births were reported from the rest of Missouri, excluding the two major metro areas. This was 1.3 per cent under the 14,514 births in 1973. Outstate births included 1,722 fourth and higher order children, a decrease of 12.5 per cent from one year earlier.

Lower repair costs by knowing auto

Dear Ann landers: The average citizen is being taken for a sucker because he can't help himself. I refer to being ripped off by automobile repair shops. The Progressive magazine (out of Madison, Wis). printed a very good article with suggestions on how Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public can protect themselves. I hope you will think it worth reprinting. Here it is --Midwest Reader:

"At a rundown gas station far from a major interstate highway, a greasy- faced mechanic lowers the hood on a hot '70 Malibu and grins, 'That will be $75, Soldier, plus parts.'

"With out -of -state plates on a downed car, you're at the mercy of the closest repair station. But this doesn't mean you'd get a better deal nearer your own home. It's all a part of 'The Great American Automobile Repair Ripoff.'

"If twenty -five billion crisp dollar bills were stacked in the Astrodome and the money was withdrawn only to pay for auto repairs, every buck would be gone in a year --a lot of them wasted.

"The best defense is to learn your automobile and how it functions. Considering how much money people tie up in their automobile, a basic course or two could certainly be considered an investment. In the meantime, play defensively. Here are some rules:

"Read warranties and guarantees carefully. Look for the loopholes that will cost you later.Do they include labor?

"Get an estimate before signing.

"Ask to see the flat -rate book and ask what the shop's hourly rate is. Don't let a dealer show you a commercial flat -rate book for repairs. Commercial books allow more time than factory books.

"Get the work order filled out in full before signing. Cross out all blank lines.

"Don't take verbal promises from anyone. Get it in writing.

"Don't let any shop take your transmission or engine apart until you're sure it needs it. Get another opinion from another shop.

"Avoid places that advertise heavily. The odds are against you. Good shops don't need to buy ads.

"Paint or scratch an identifying mark on major parts to prevent being sold your own gear.

"Don't be afraid to back out if the price sounds too high.

"IF the work isn't done properly, tell the hombre you intend to blow the whistle to the FTC, the DA's office, your state's Office of Consumer Affairs, the Better Business Bureau, and anybody else you can think of. Then do it. --Barney Halloran in Soldier's Magazine" (Reprinted In The progressive)

Only 22 college teams unbeaten

It would seem that way with the season less than a month old and only 22 of the 128 major teams still unbeaten and untied. Only 12 of the perfects come from among the so-called major powers.

That dignified dozen consists of North Carolina State at 4-0; Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Illinois, Kansas State, Michigan, Ohio State, Texas A&M and Tulane at 3-0 and Miami, Fla., and Oklahoma at 2-0.

The others are 4-0 New Mexico State; Arizona, East Carolina and Richmond at 3-0; Lamar and Temple at 2-0 and Cornell, Harvard, Penn at Yale at 1-0.

A wave of upsets inundated the ranks of the Top Twenty for the second week in a row. Among the victims were second-ranked Notre Dame, No. 6 Texas, seventh-rated Arizona State and two of the teams that made the Top Twenty via upsets last week—No.11 Wisconsin and No. 12 Baylor.

Notre Dame surrendered three touchdowns in the first seven minutes and bowed to Purdue 31-20. Texas opened its quest for a seventh consecutive Southwest Conference crown by losing to Texas Tech 26-3 and Arizona State was blanked 9-0 by Missouri.

Wisconsin, which knocked off Nebraska last week, lost to previously winless Colorado 24-21. Oklahoma State, which upset Arkansas, which upset Southern California, was in turn upset by previously winless Baylor 31-14.

Southern Cal, although ranked down in the No. 18 position, was a solid favorite over Pitt and defeated the eighth-ranked Panthers 16-7. Tennessee, No. 14, had an unpleasant first-ever visit to Auburn's campus, losing 21-0. Louisiana State, No. 17, tied unheralded Rice 10-10.

Among the top teams, No. 1 ranked Ohio State turned back Southern Methodist 28-9, third ranked Oklahoma stomped Utah State 72-3, No. 4 Alabama subdued Vanderbilt 23-10 and fifth-ranked Michigan sank Navy 52-0.

Elsewhere, Texas A&M, ranked ninth, downed Washington 28-15, No. 13 North Carolina State held off Syracuse 28-22, No. 15 Arizona squeezed past New Mexico 15-10, No. 16 Illinois nipped Washington State 21-19, No. 19 Penn State trounced Iowa 27-0 and No. 20 Miami of Florida shaded Tampa 28-26.

Purdue roared to a 24-0 firstperiod lead on Mike Terrizzi's one-yard run, Pete Gross' 52yard gallop, Bob Mannella's 21yard interception and Steve Schmidt's 47-yard field goal. No opponent in Notre Dame's storied football history had ever piled up 24 points in one quarter and the Irish never recovered.

Archie Griffin led Ohio State past SMU by rushing for 157 yards and two touchdowns while Brian Baschnagel added 144 yards on just seven carries.

Oklahoma exploded for six touchdowns and a 42-0 first-period lead against Utah State.

Calvin Culliver's 85-yard scoring gallop started Alabama over Vanderbilt.

Gordon Bell scored three touchdowns and Chuck Heater two as Michigan walloped Navy before a crowd of 104,232, second largest in college football history.

Texas Tech handed Texas its first SWC setback in 30 games and avenged last season's lone defeat as rookie quarterback Tommy Duniven rifled touchdown passes of 77, 15 and 18 yards to Lawrence Williams.

Ray Smith tossed an 18-yard touchdown pass to Mark Miller and Tim Gibbons kicked a 21yard field goal as Missouri handed Arizona State its first shutout in 97 games.

Southern Cal held All-American Tony Dorsett to 59 yards, lowest of his career but enough to smash Pitt's career record in only his 15th varsity game.

Skip Walker led Texas A&M past Washington with touchdown runs of three, 21 and 61 yards in the first half.

Colorado blew a 10-0 lead, then rallied to beat Wisconsin behind the running of Billy Waddy, who gained 151 yards and scored the winning TD early in the fourth period.

Steve Beaird scored three times, twice on passes from Neal Jeffrey, in Baylor's upset of Oklahoma State. Roland Hooks' three tallies paced N.C. State over Syracuse and Auburn's Kenny Burks scored all three touchdowns as the Tigers handed Tennessee its first shutout in 54 games.

Freshman Lee Pistor, who missed a first-quarter conversion, booted three field goals, lifting Arizona over New Mexico.

Illinois edged Washington State on Jeff Hollenbach's 22yard pass to Jeff Chrystal with 34 seconds left.

Rusty Jackson's 27-yard field goal with three seconds left enabled LSU to tie Rice. Penn State held Iowa without a first down for three periods and got two touchdowns from reserve tailback Dave Stutts, a fourthstring tight end a week ago.

Miami's Kary Baker scored once and passed for a touchdown while Don Martin ran for two scores in the Hurricanes' squeaker over Tampa.

College football's oldest rivals, Princeton and Rutgers, battled to a 6-6 standoff that included one of the weirdest endings ever. Princeton scored with 22 seconds left but Rutgers partisans had torn down both goalposts—at Princeton's Palmer Stadium—with two minutes to go. The officials ruled the Tigers had to try a two-point conversion and the pass trickled off the fingertips of the intended receiver.

8th graders win opener

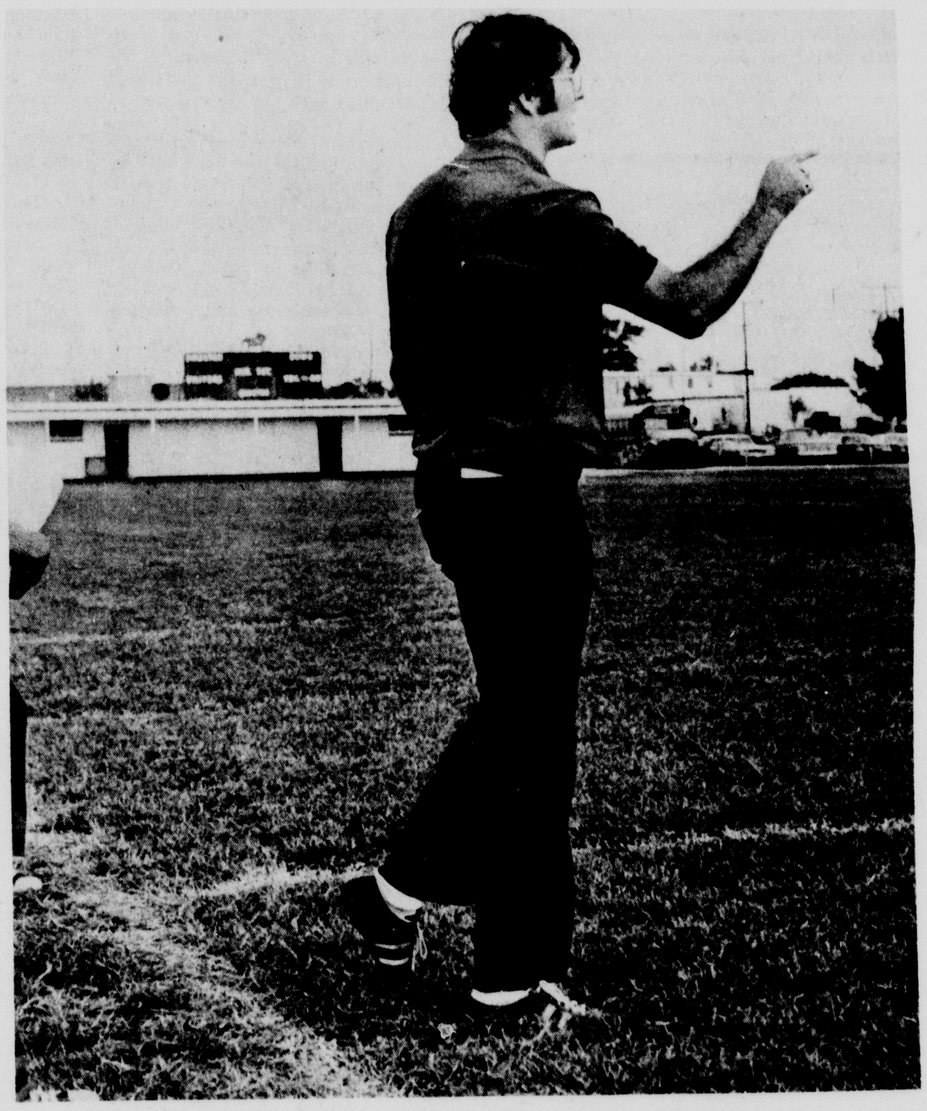
Coach John Heacox's eight grade football team become the first Sikeston team to win a home game this season as they downed the Perryville Pirates 26-6 Saturday afternoon. It was the opening game for the team.

Sikeston actually rapped up the game in the opening quarter as the little Bulldogs surprised Perryville with a pitchout from Jay Cox to Gary Leonard for 30 yards and a 6-0 lead. Sikeston had just fell on a kickoff that traveled 10 yards untouched by the Pirates.

Sikeston held Perryville in check the next series of downs and took over just long enough for Dwight Mills to break loose for a 30 yard score over left tackle.

Sikeston scored their third touchdown of the game on a pitchout from quarterback Alan Barbrick to Dwight Mills for 20 yards. The half ended with Sikeston leading 20-0.

Perryville scored in the fourth period after a fumble recovery on the Sikeston 20 yard line. With Sikeston leading 20-6, the Bulldogs were forced to punt and recovered a fumble on the 10 where Barbrick sneaked over from the two yard line.



Coach points it out

Sikeston eighth grade football coach, John Heacox, points out instructions during Saturday's season opening game at public school stadium. The Bulldogs won, thus marking up the towns first home victory of the season.

Mizzou stops Devils

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — "The muddy field was no factor," Arizona State's Coach Frank Kush said. "It was muddy at both ends."

And, having watched his seventh-ranked Sun Devils lose 9-0 to underdog Missouri, the 46-year-old Kush was inclined Saturday first to praise the victor.

"We never could get our offense untracked," conceded Kush, whose high-powered team was restricted to 232 yards on rain-slickened Faurot Field.

"But you've got to give Missouri credit," he insisted. "They just beat the heck out of us on offense and defense.."

The shutout was Arizona State's first in 97 games, extending to a 13-0 loss suffered against Utah State in 1965.

In administering it, Missouri capitalized on four pass interceptions to contain the Sun Devil attack and converted one of its own mistakes to a touchdown.

Arizona State's Don Breunig intercepted a Ray Smith pass on the final play of the opening quarter but fumbled at the ASU 37.

Mark Miller recovered for Mizzou and two plays later sped to the Sun Devil 18 on a wingback reverse. Following an incompletion, Miller then snared Smith's touchdown pass.

A third-quarter ASU drive was thwarted by Tiger safety Tony Gillick's interception before Gillick returned a punt 27 yards to the Sun Devil 38.

Smith rifled a 14-yard pass to split end Henry Marshall, reserve Tony Galbreath carried four times to the ASU 3 and Tim Gibbons kicked a 21-yard field goal.

"I know I've said this many times, but our kids gave more than they had," said Missouri Coach Al Onofrio, whose team improved its record to 2-1.

"Our players had a special look before the game," Onofrio said, "and at no time during the game was there anything but fire in their eyes."

The triumph avenged a 49-35 loss to ASU suffered by Missouri in the 1972 Fiesta Bowl and set the Tigers up for a Saturday game against Wisconsin in Madison.

"We've improved every week and I hope we continue to improve," Onofrio, said. "With our type schedule we have to."

"We've got a lot of work to do," noted Kush, whose Sun Devils begin their quest for a Western Athletic Conference title at Wyoming this week.

"Our record is 2-1 and before the season that would have looked pretty good," he noted. "But not now."

SEMO loses, 17-6

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Undefeated University of Evansville (Ind.) took advantage of some second half miscues by its Southeast Missouri State University hosts Saturday evening and rolled up its third straight win of the season while dropping the Indians to 1-2 behind a 17-6 victory.

Coach Jim Lohr's Indians rode the foot of Mike Wood to a 6-0 first half lead on field goal kicks of 42 and 37 yards.

Evansville scored all of its points in the third quarter, marching 73 yards after receiving the second half kickoff for its first touchdown. Jim Pandoli's 14-yard scoring run and preceeding extra point gave Evansville a 7-6 lead. Less than two minutes later, Evansville recovered a Southeast Missouri fumble on the Indians' 32 and Virgil Bufford scored a touchdown on the next play.

FAIRFAX, Calif. (AP) — When a builder proposed tennis courts in this area, he immediately received protests from residents claiming the construction work would cause too much dust and noise. He had a ready response.

Standard leads LL football

By EARL HENDERSON

The second week of little league football was played at Middle School Field Saturday. Rain and all, a large crowd was on hand to see The Daily Standard team take over sole possession of first place. The Daily Standard team defeated National Lock 15-0. In the other game played the Jaycee team defeated the Bank of Sikeston team 25-0.

In the first game at 1:30 Saturday the Bank of Sikeston team looked as if they were to give the JC's all they wanted in the first quarter. Late in the first period, the JC quarterback engineered a drive which had him skirt right end for a twenty yard score.

Early in the second quarter JC quarterback David Bizzel again carried the ball around left end for a two yard score. Both conversion attempts failed and JC's led 12-0. With two minutes left in the half Ricky Leonard of the JC's blocked a Bank of Sikeston punt on the ten. Bank of Sikeston held and the half ended in a 12-0 lead for the Jaycees.

In the third and fourth quarter Bank of Sikeston gave the Jaycee's a good ball game. With two minutes to play the Bank team tried two passes and both were intercepted, and resulted in scores for the Jaycees. JC's Daniel Hampton picked off one and scored and Dennis Frazier picked off the second one and scored. Ricky Leonard ran one PAT over the final score was Jaycees 25 Bank of Sikeston 0.

In the battle of undefeated teams in the second game The Daily Standard and National Lock teams could not get their offenses going in the first half. Defensively both teams played well and at the half it was 0-0.

When the third quarter teams started it was a different story. Daily Standard forced the Lock team to punt. Lock couldn't get the punt off before a Standard player had him tackled in the end zone for a safety. Lock kicked-off and Daily Standard marched right down the field and quarterback Fred Tope scored on a quarterback sneek. Standard led 8-0 at this point. Lock marched down the field and was on the Standard one when they fumbled. Lock and Standard exchanged a couple of fumbles, and Standard got it all together late in the fourth quarter. Quarterback Harry Tope skirted right end on a quarterback sweep and scored on a fifty yard run. Right halfback Terry Duncan made the point after and Standard held on to shut out National Lock 15-0.

Birds go North for final series

CHICAGO (AP) — Catcher Ted Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals sloughed off congratulations on driving in his 100th run of the season. "It's all even now, baby," said Simmons. "That's what is more important."

Even it is.

The St. Louis Cardinals, getting a pinch three-run homer from Jose Cruz in the sixth inning rode to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs and climbed into a first-place tie with Pittsburgh in the National League East race.

The Pirates dropped a 7-2 decision to the New York Mets leaving each contender with three games to play. The Pirates go home for a series with the Cubs and the Cardinals wind up the season at Montreal.

"I don't think anybody has an advantage now," said Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst in reference to questions about the Cardinals finishing on the road while the Pirates are home.

"You just have to win, that's all," he said. "We play as well on the road as we do at home.

"Montreal scores more runs than some other teams, so that means we'll need a lot of pitching," said Schoendienst. "I just hope the weather is good up there."

Schoendienst conceded that it is highly probable that the two teams could end up in a first place tie which would necessitate a one-game playoff in Pittsburgh Thursday afternoon.

"Cruz' homer was the big hit," said Schoendienst, "but he's had some big hits for us through the years."

Cruz called it "my biggest homer ever" and said he had been hitting the ball exceptionally well in batting practice throughout the series. "It was a Puerto Rican fastball," laughed the native of Arroyo, P.R.

Except for an error by Cub shortstop Don Kessinger, Cruz might not have batted in the sixth inning when the Cardinals clinched their game-scoring four runs, all of them unearned.

With one run in as the result of a throwing error by pitcher Steve Stone, Ted Sizemore came up with two outs and a man on base. Sizemore hit a pop to Kessinger who dropped the ball for an error, setting the stage for Cruz fifth homer of the year.

The Cardinals never trailed in the game. Simmons singled home a run in the first but the Cubs came back to tie it in the bottom of the first on two singles and an error.

Joe Torre singled home a run in the Cardinal second and Lou Brock made it 3-1 with a runscoring single in the fourth. Brock then stole his 118th base—15th against Chicago, which is the only team not to have nailed the Cardinal thief at least once during the season.

Big Red speed prevails

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "I think maybe this time we're real," a pleased Terry Metcalf of the St. Louis Cardinals said.

And the Cleveland Browns were in no mood to argue Sunday after Metcalf's flying feet and those of Mel Gray left them with a 29-7 loss in the National Football League.

Metcalf, a whirling dervish, shocked the Browns with a 94-yard kickoff return for a touchdown opening the second half.

Cleveland thereupon retaliated only to have Gray apply a knockout punch by catching a 68-yard touchdown pass.

"The big play was the bomb," acknowledged Brown's Coach Nick Skorich, who referred to Gray's reception of a Jim Hart aerial.

"The kickoff return hurt," Skorich conceded, "but we were back in the game after a couple of plays. Then that took the starch out of us."

Cleveland trailed 7-0 when Metcalf fielded the third quarter kickoff and headed for the right sideline.

A final Cleveland defender had a shot at the Card speedster at the Browns' 25, but Metcalf again swerved and crossed the goal line standing.

Cleveland quickly cast Greg Pruitt in an aerial role and closed to 14-7 on Pruitt's 55-yard halfback pass to Gloster Richardson.

But Hart, who completed only four of 11 passes, went long on the Cards' next play and was on target to Gray, a former collegiate sprinter.

A 44-yard Jim Bakken field goal then followed Metcalf's punt return to the Browns' 47 and Donny Anderson's one-yard touchdown run capped a 22-point St. Louis third quarter.

At least partially echoing Skorich on the effect of the Hart-Gray bomb was Browns quarterback Mike Phipps.

"You can't really say that was the game," maintained Phipps, who was earlier victimized by Norm Thompson's 56-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass, "but so many big plays went against us."

"We talked about it at the half and decided to try it," said Hart, who threw the bomb. "I was open and Jim put the ball there," Gray said.

Brock, McBride receive threats

CHICAGO (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals have taken added security measures to protect two players, outfielders Lou Brock and Bake McBride, whose lives have been threatened.

Brock revealed during a Sunday news conference details of a letter threatening him and McBride. Brock said he was sure the threat had affected his play but "to what extent I don't know."

He said information concerning the letter had leaked out and he felt the best way to relieve some of the pressure on him was to make details of the threat known.

Bing Devine, Cardinals' general manager, attended the news conference to detail security measures taken in St. Louis, Chicago and Montreal, where the Cards wind up their regular season in a three-game series starting today.

The letter, dated Sept. 18, had a Sept. 19 St. Louis postmark and was received by the Cardinals Sept. 20. It contained numerous racial slurs and much obscene language.

It said in part:

"By beating out the Pirates this year you're costing me a $50,000.00 winnings I would have had as the result of a bet at large odds I placed on them to win back in April when they were already counted out even by the oddsmakers.

"This is no idle threat: If I think so I can assure you that neither of you...will live past the 3rd, 4th, or 5th playoff game whether it be in L.A. or Cincy."

The writer said he suffers from an inoperable brain tumor and has only a month or two to live. He said he wanted to leave his wife and children the $50,000, but the Cardinals took it away from him.

"I'll have a revolver loaded with six shots and be in the stands close enough to get you both and save the last shot for myself since suicide is my only way out—unspeakable agony is not going to be mine," the letter said.

Orioles hold on in AL East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Yankees are on a treadmill—they keep winning, but they just can't catch up with the Baltimore Orioles.

Graig Nettles belted two home runs and Rudy May pitched a four-hitter to help the Yankees post their fourth consecutive victory, a 10-0 romp over the Cleveland Indians Sunday.

But Baltimore remained one-half game ahead of the Yankees in the chase for the American League East flag by nipping the Milwaukee Brewers 43, the winning run scoring on four walks in the ninth inning.

Baltimore, 88-71, has three games left in the regular season, at Detroit Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The Yankees, 88-72, have two games left, at Milwaukee Tuesday and Wednesday.

May struck out 13 in pitching his first complete game since joining the Yankees from the California Angels June 15.

New York scored two runs in the first against former Yankee Fritz Peterson, then broke it open with four runs in the third. Lou Piniella scored the first run of the inning on an error by left fielder Joe Lis, Sandy Alomar stroked a runscoring single and relief pitcher Milt Wilcox gave up bases-loaded walks to Elliott Maddox and Murcer.

Nettles hit his first home run of the game in the fourth inning, Piniella and Thurman Munson delivered RBI singles in the fifth and Nettles hit his 22nd home run of the season in the sixth, making it 10-0.

Orioles 4, Brewers 3

"Let's have a laugher," said Doog Powell, whose bases-loaded walk in the ninth gave the Orioles their sixth victory in a row and 25th in 31 starts down the stretch. "My heart can't take much more of this."

Milwaukee starter Jim Slaton, 13-16, struck out Mark Belanger—his 10th strikeout of the game—leading off the Orioles' ninth, then issued three walks to load the bases.

Tigers 7, Red Sox 4

Al Kaline, honored in pregame ceremonies for having collected his 3,000th career hit last week, drove a run-scoring single to highlight a four-run sixth inning for the Tigers.

A's 3, White Sox 2

Reserve second basemn Manny Trillo stroked a pair of runscoring singles to lead Oakland over Chicago.

Angels 4, Twins 0

Andy Hassler scattered five singles to pitch California to victory over the Twins, who were victimized by Nolan Ryan's no-hitter Saturday night.

Rangers 5, Royals 0

Jim Spencer's two-run homer backed the six-hit pitching of Bill Hands for the Rangers.

Today in U. S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Sept. 30, the 273rd day of 1974. There are 92 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1954, the first atomic-powered vessel, the submarine, "Nautilus," was commissioned by the U.S. Navy.

On this date —

In 1787, the sailing ship "Columbia" left Boston on the first voyage round the world by an American ship.

In 1846, ether was used for the first time as an anesthetic by a Boston dentist, Dr. William Morton.

In 1882, the first hydroelectric power station in the United States was opened at Appleton, Wis.

In 1938, at a meeting in Munich, Germany, British and French leaders agreed to Nazi Germany's annexation of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland.

In 1946, an international military tribunal in Nuremberg, Germany, found 22 top German Nazi leaders guilty of war crimes. Eleven were sentenced to death.

In 1955, the French delegation to the U.N. General Assembly walked out after the Assembly voted to take up the question of unrest in Algeria.

Ten years ago: In southeastern India, a rain-swollen reservoir burst, sending a wall of water through the town of Macheria and leaving an estimated death toll of 36.

Five years ago: A withdrawal of U.S. forces from Southeast Asia gained momentum with the announced withdrawal of 6,000 troops from Thailand and the departure of 1,000 more Marines from Vietnam.

One year ago: West German Chancellor Willy Brandt cut short a visit to the United States to return to Bonn to deal with domestic controveries.

The case of the disputed ring

By: JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Mary -Loo took Bernie like Grant took Richmond. After only 10 minutes together at a party, he fell madly in love with her. In fact, after only several weeks of knowing her, he gave Mary -Loo a gigantic diamond engagement ring.

There was, however, one minor problem that confronted romantic Bernie. He was already married. Undaunted, he merely promised Mary -Loo that he would divorce his wife and then be free to marry her.

After several months, however, Mary -Loo decided that Bernie's promise carried a lot of wait. He wasn't divorced and she figured she wasn't going to wait any longer. Consequently, she canceled the engagement and Bernie demanded the return of his ring. When it wasn't forthcoming, he sued to get it back.

"When a girl breaks an engagement," he argued in court, "she's got to give back all engagement gifts, since they're given to her only on condition that she goes through with the wedding."

"But Bernie was in no condition to marry me when he gave me the ring," was Mary -Loo's answer. "He was still married. Consequently, how could any gift he gave me be conditioned on my marrying him?"

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make Mary -Loo give back the ring?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that an agreement to marry when one of the parties is already married is void as against public policy ..and it is not saved or rendered valid because the married individual contemplates a divorce. Consequently, concluded the judge, when a married man gives a girl an engagement ring, he cannot recover it even if the engagement is broken by the woman.

Scott Central to host parents

Parents night will begin at 7:30 p.m. today at Scott County Central High School by the faculty and administration of the school, according to Principal Dolan Rogers.

Parents will have an opportunity to meet with teachers in their classrooms until 9 p.m.

Refreshments will be served during a social period scheduled from 9 to 9:30 p.m. in the library.

Museum work progresses

NEW MADRID — Renovation work is progressing at the future city museum building, and several major improvements have been completed.

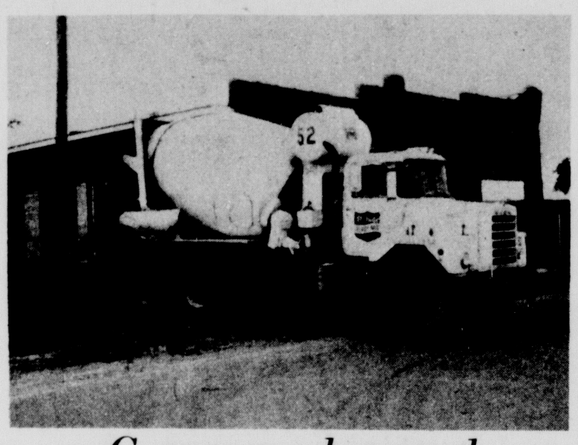
Mrs. Dot Halstead, co-chairman of the building committee, said a generous donation of concrete by Ray Clinton of St. Jude Building Materials Inc. provided a new concrete floor and a concrete drain that was installed along the south side of the building.

The committee plans now to proceed with getting the exterior bricking and painting done, Mrs. Halstead said.

Other major repairs noted by Mrs. Halstead include installation of all new plumbing and sewer pipes, repair and tarring of the roof by Loyd Robinette, who donated his labor; construction of an overhang across the back of the building; and erection of a fence partially across the back of the property.

In addition, the grounds have been cleared and cleaned of debris and mowed.

The New Madrid city museum project was the subject of an article in a recent publication of the Missouri Museums Associates Newsletter, which stated "New Madrid is to be commended on this ambitious project which has already received many hours of donated help."



Concrete donated

Concrete for a new floor in the New Madrid city museum building, which is undergoing extensive renovation, was recently donated by Ray Clinton of St. Jude Building Materials Inc.

Bicentennial flag to be presented

NEW MADRID — A Bicentennial flag will be presented to the city in ceremonies scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Friday on Main Street. The presentation will be made by Ken White, executive secretary of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Missouri.

New Madrid was approved and designated a Bicentennial City by the Bicentennial Board in Washington, D.C., following the formation of a city Bicentennial Commission to plan activities to honor the nation's past, present and future.

Friday's program is the first in a series planned by the New Madrid Bicentennial Commission in connection with the nationwide celebration of the 200th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence.

The program will open with a presentation of the colors by American Legion members of Brown- Twitty Post 595. The New Madrid High School band, directed by Robert Donze, will play the National Anthem, and the invocation will be given by the Rev. Edward Watkins, pastor of First United Methodist Church.

Mayor Jim Cravens will extend welcoming remarks and a solo, "America, the Beautiful.", will be sung by Mrs. Edward Watkins.

Special guests will be introduced by Larry Rost, followed by the presentation of the Bicentennial flag to the mayor.

Mrs. Watkins will sing, "God Bless America", and the program will close with a benediction by the Rev. Douglas Baker, pastor of the New Madrid Baptist Church.

Bond proclaims October as pork month

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Gov. Christopher S. Bond signed a proclamation Thursday designating October as pork month in Missouri.

Officials of the Missouri Pork Producers Association and the state Agriculture Department attended the signing ceremony. They also arranged a noon barbecue on the lawn of the governor's mansion for state officials and legislators.

"The swine industry is important to every state in the nation, and especially to Missouri as the feeder pig capital of the world," Bond said.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Venable expect to leave Sunday for St. Louis , where they will make their home with a daughter, Mrs. F.E. Korossy and Mr. Korossy. Mr. Venable and wife moved here from Fredericktown on March 15.

Funeral services were held Monday at the home of Walter Nelson, north of this city, for his father, Lytle Yancy Nelson, aged pioneer of near this place, who died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Dora Leslie of Carbondale, Ill., Saturday at the advanced age of 85 years.

Funeral services for Miss Katherine Austin, who died in Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape last Monday, were conducted Thursday here. Miss Austin, who, until December, had spent all her life in Scott County, sustained a fractured hip in a fall four weeks ago.

The condition of Mrs. Handy L. Smith, who is seriously afflicted with sleeping sickness, the first case of its kind in Sikeston, remains unchanged. Becoming ill last month in Washington, D.C., she was brought home by her son, Lynn.

A powerful Bulldog line, with the presence of three fleet backs, Rogers, Arnold, and Walker, and fine team direction and blocking by halfback Greer, combined to give the Sikeston High School football team a splashing victory over East Prairie Friday by the score of 26 to 0 to make a running start in what promises to be a lively season.

Margaret Ann Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Parks, celebrated her fourth birthday last Tuesday with a party at her home.

Morley --Cpl. Carmen (Pug) Mize has been home on furlough visiting his brother, Bill Mize of Morley. Mrs. Mize was with her husband but they returned to his camp Sunday.

Matthews --Mrs. Jessie Lomax of Risco has been spending the past two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Haddie Cannon, and Mrs. Vina Haynes. She returned to her home at [illegible] Sunday.

Lawrence Strock, 74 years old, of Benton died Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital in Cape.

Little Julia Deneke Summers experienced her first birthday party Saturday when she was one year old that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kirn of Sikeston are parents of a daughter born Saturday at Cape Osteppathis Hospital .

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Stehr of Oran Friday at St. Francis Hospital in Cape.

Halfback Arlen Powell, upon whose shoulders rests the hope of seeing the Charleston Bluejays finish with their best Big Eight season in several years, is currently pacing the Southeast Missouri scorers with 42 points. Quarterback Tom Thrower is second high scorer in the area and tops the Little Six with 27 points and Terry Cooper of Sikeston, is tied for fourth with three others in the Big Eight with 18 points.

James Beaird of Paragould, Ark., who was recently engaged by the Chamber of Commerce as manager, will arrive in Sikeston this weekend to assume his new position.

Exchange student at Bernie

By MARK GEERS

BERNIE — Most of us never give a thought to the problems involved in learning the English language. Sure, we've heard that some philologists maintain that English is one of the most difficult languages to master, even harder than Chinese or Russian. But we just sort of grew up with it. Mastery came so easily, we scarecely gave it a second thought.

But for Ignacio Zuloaga, an exchange student from Mexico, the English langauge presents a real challenge.

Ignacio arrived in Bernie Monday to live with Principal Don Lee and his family while attending the Bernie High School. But before he begins his regularly scheduled classes, he must learn English. The hard way.

"Ignacio is 19 years old, and he came here with the intention of learning English," Lee said. "Right now, he knows no English at all; he is starting from scratch. Several of our high school Spanish students are tutoring him now, to prepare him for eventual entrance into a normal class."

This illustrates one of the most attractive features of the International Student Exchange Program, the program that sponsored Zuloaga's stay here. Ignacio will learn English and a great deal about life in America; his tutors will learn more than a little Spanish from him and will benefit from such close exposure to someone from another culture.

Zuloaga's home is a ranch about a four-hour ride from Mexico City. Presumably, the differences between a Mexican "rancho" and a Bootheel town are great, but from Lee's account, Ignacio seems to be coping well.

In a couple weeks when he learns a bit more English (or in the unlikely event I learn some Spanish) I will ask him about it.

Waters pledges Lambda Chi

JACKSON, Miss. — Seventy- five men at Millsaps College have accepted bids offered by the College's four social fraternities this fall, according to David Anderson of Greenville, president of the Inter- fraternity Council.

Charles Waters Jr. of Sikeston, Mo., has pledged Lambda Chi Alpha.

2. Card of Thanks

We wish to express to all of our friends our most sincere thanks for all the kindness you have shown our family in the loss of our dear Husband, Father and Brother, Arnold Stehr. Our thanks to Dr. Harold Ridings, The Sisters and nurses of St. Francis Hospital, to all who gave spiritual bouquets, flowers, cards to those who brought food and to those who came by and offered kind words of encouragement. To those who remembered us with your prayers, to the Amick Burnett Funeral Home, to Rev. Richard Rowling for his beautiful and consoling message, to Father James Holmes and Father Joseph LeGrand, to the pall bearers, to the Knight of Columbus Council 4311 Oran for the beautiful prayer service and to all the others who have been so wonderful to us. May God richly bless each of you for all your deeds of kindness.

Mrs. Arnold Stehr, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stehr, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Diebold, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller

Canadian quotas threaten U. S. beef

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department expert said today that a new import quota system for livestock and meat shipped into Canada threatens to take a $100-million bite from U.S. farm exports.

Robert R. Anlauf of the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said further the quotas could "further aggravate an already difficult marketing situation" between the two countries.

Canada had been tightening import restrictions, particularly for cattle and beef for some time. Then, last April 9, the government flatly banned imports of slaughter cattle and beef unless they were certified as having never been exposed to the synthentic growth hormone, DES.

Canada later announced a new quota system beginning Aug. 12 and said that it would run for a full year. Meantime, a system of DES certification was agreed upon so that U.S. cattle and beef could begin entering Canada again this fall.

Anlauf, writing in a weekly issue of Foreign Agriculture, said the Canadian quotas apply also to other foreign suppliers such as Australia and New Zealand and thus could cause diversions of beef into the United States, the only major market where severe import curbs have not been put into effect.

Last week the American National Cattlemen's Association called for a complete embargo on imports of beef into the United States.

"Until other beef importing nations reopen their borders and absorb some of the world's beef surplus, U.S. cattlemen have no alternative but to insist upon an embargo on beef imports," Gordon Van Vleck, association president, said in Denver.

In his analysis today, Anlauf said Canada apparently wants to roll back U.S. cattle and beef imports to historical levels but fails to take into consideration what has happened lately regarding shifts in Canadian beef grading standards.

Anlauf said a new Canadian beef grading system in October 1972 resulted in a severe decrease in the supply of animals in lower-grade categories. As a result, animals that had previously been mostly in the top grades destined for hotel and restaurant consumption were discounted heavily and graded in lower categories.

"To meet the new requirements, Canadian cattle feeders shortened their feeding period to produce animals with less (fat) marbling and leaner beef," Anlauf said.

But, he said, the hotel and restaurant trade continued to demand the previously higher grades of beef. That helped prompt a large volume of U.S. grain-fed cattle and beef into the Canadian market.

The current quota system permits 82,835 live slaughter cattle from the United States to enter Canada during the year, plus 17.9 million pounds of fresh and frozen dressed beef. By comparison, in calendar 1973 about 185,000 head of U.S. cattle and 35 million pounds of meat moved into the Canadian market.

Williams held in murder

CARUTHERSVILLE — A Caruthersville man is being held by authorities in connection with the fatal shooting of Willieva Johnson, 35, of Caruthersville, Police Chief E. R. "Doc" Stone said today.

Stone said police answered a call at 6 a.m. Sunday at Katie's Grill at 12th and Best Streets and found the woman on the floor with three gunshot wounds in her neck.

She was dead by the time she reached the hospital, Stone said.

The police picked up Ray Williams, 26, of

1 seriously injured in area traffic accidents

Only one serious injury was reported among the 17 persons injured in nine area traffic accidents over the weekend, the highway patrol announced today.

A Memphis, Tenn., woman suffered serious injuries and four persons received minor injuries in a three- car accident at 8 p.m. Saturday on Interstate 55 one mile north of Cape Girardeau.

The accident occurred during a heavy rainstorm when a northbound car driven by John E. Liltenquist, 34, of Nashville, Tenn., struck the back of two other northbound cars, driven by Barbara Daugherty, 39, of Memphis and Sammy Tumbs, 28, of Tyronza, Ark.

According to the highway patrol, the Daugherty car was being driven at a slow rate of speed because of the heavy rain and the Tumbs car was parked partially on the shoulder when the Lintenquist car struck them both at the same time.

Brenda Roberts, 23, of Memphis, a passenger in the Daugherty car, received serious injuries. Receiving minor injuries were Liltenquist and three passengers, Colleen Liltenquist, 35, Ruth Liltenquist, 4, and David Liltenquist, 3, of Nashville. All of the injured were taken to Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Two passengers in a car driven by Leon Johnson, 74, of Hayti were injured in a two- car accident at 11:20 a.m. Friday 1.7 miles west of Hayti on Highway 84.

The accident occurred when an eastbound tractor - trailer truck driven by Kerry Peterson, 22, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, overtook the eastbound Johnson car at a high rate of speed, was unable to stop and struck it from behind.

Edith Knighten, 56, and Ida Hall, 72, of Hayti Heights received minor injuries. Both were taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti.

A Caruthersville woman received minor injuries in a two - car accident at 8 p.m. Saturday on Route U two miles west of the Stubtown community in Pemiscot County.

The accident occurred when a westbound car driven by Charles Q. Moore, 75, of Memphis attempted a left turn into a private drive and pulled into the path of an eastbound car driven by George L. Young, 52, of Caruthersville.

Injured was a passenger in the Young car, Annie R. Young, 71, of Caruthersville, who was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital.

James Virgil Scarbrough, 51, of Arcadia received minor injuries at 8:15 p.m. Saturday on Route V eight miles west of Pilot Knob in Iron County when his car ran off the road and overturned.

He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Ironton.

August Berkbuegler, 80, of Perryville, received minor injuries at 7:50 a.m. Saturday on Highway 51 in Perryville when the southbound lawnmower he was riding was struck by a southbound station wagon driven by Charles Charles Sutton, 22, of Perryville.

Berkbuegler was taken to Perry County Hospital in Perryville.

A St. Louis man was injured in a two- car accident at 1:45 p.m. Saturday on Interstate 55 near the interchange with Highway 77

Correspondent to report Portageville area news

PORTAGEVILLE — Mrs. Wanda Lee Vance has joined The Daily Standard staff as news correspondent for the Portageville area.

Mrs. Vance is the wife of Fred Vance, manager of the Sterling Store in Portageville. They are parents of one daughter, Lesley, 5, who is a kindergarten pupil.

Prior to moving to Portageville seven months ago, the family had lived in Perryville for three and a half years, where Vance was assistant manager of a Sterling Store.

Wanda Lee Vance

A native of Blytheville, Ark., Mrs. Vance is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Webb of Blytheville. She is a 1967 graduate of Blytheville High School and received a secretarial degree from Blytheville Business College.

Leisure time activitises that Mrs. Vance enjoys include reading, sewing, bowling and playing the piano. The family attends the Church of Christ.

Portageville area news may be reported to Mrs. Vance at her home on St. Anthony Street at the corner of Robin Lane or by phone at 379-5878.

Thieves active over weekend

A truck, three stereo tape players and a citizens band radio were reported stolen in separate thefts over the weekend, according to police.

Also, Halford's Radiator Shop, 1621 E. Malone Ave., was burglarized.

A pickup truck belonging to William Terry Dame, 1011 N. Kingshighway, was taken while parked at his home between 7:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Sunday, according to police.

The truck was found at 11:24 p.m. Sunday, wrecked and burned on Route W four miles north of Catron.

A tape player worth $38 and two speakers worth $10 were taken from a car belonging to Terry Allen Payne, 225 Marian St., between 10 p.m. and midnight Saturday, while the car was parked near the Associated Natural Gas Co. office on South New Madrid St.

Bill Melrose, 225 Ruth St., told police a combination tape player-radio and two speakers were taken from his car between 8 and 11:15 p.m. Saturday

Armed bandit takes $605 from car wash

An armed man took $605 from Young's Car Wash, 1607 E. Malone Ave., about 4:30 p.m. Sunday, according to Det. Jack Patterson.

The man forced attendant Kenneth Lewis, 20, of 471 Greer, to open the safe and give him Saturday's receipts.

Lewis described the man as being in his 30s, about six feet tall and weighing about 200 pounds, with a red beard, and long red hair.

Patterson said Lewis described the gun as a small handgun.

The man entered the car wash through the south door, put the money in the bag and walked out the north door toward Malone Avenue. Lewis said he did not see a getaway car.

Morehouse man turned over to authorities

James E. Brown, 31, of Morehouse Route One, was arrested at 12:20 a.m. Sunday in a car allegedly stolen in Blytheville, Ark.

He was stopped by Sikeston police on Maude Street. Brown was later turned over to Arkansas authorities.

James Thomas Morgan, 718 Kendell, no city sticker; Edith Adams, 231 N. Handy, public intoxication; Noel R. Cantrell, 524 S. Handy, driving while intoxicated, no city sticker; Kenneth R. Merideth, 303 Broadway, speeding; John Hickman, of Canalou, public intoxication; Lawrence Woodrow Graham of Blodgett, careless and imprudent driving.

Tip leads to marijuana arrest

CHAFFEE — An informant's tip to Chief of Police Jimmy Dale Coats led to the arrest of 19- year - old Donnie Shelton near Scott City Sunday afternoon and a felony charge of possession of over 35 grams of marijuana.

Shelton was under surveilance for nearly three hours Sunday afternoon after the informant told of a man who was supposed to be on Main Street in Chaffee to pick up money from some buyers of marjjuana.

Scott City police stopped Shelton and made the arrest and turned up one marijuana cigarette, roach clip and a bag of marijuana. Authorities said Shelton discarded the bag when they began to search him.

Shelton is being held in the Scott County jail at Benton. No bond or arraignment date has been set.

A NEW TABERNACLE FOR A GROWING CHURCH

In the year 1839, Joseph Smith, prophet leader of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, or "Mormons", as members soon came to be called, journeyed to Washington to appeal to the President of the United States for justice. His people had been cruelly persecuted and driven from their homes in Missouri, and the state authorities had sided with the mobs. President Martin Van Buren heard him out, then dismissed him with the comment, "Your cause is just but I can do nothing for you." More persecution followed in Illinois, and even after the Mormon exodus to the Salt Lake valley, feelings ran strongly against this unique American church. Elements in Congress sought to deny a seat to one of the first Senators elected from Utah in 1902 because he was also a high official of the Mormon church.

This kind of religious prejudice fortunately seems to be a thing of the past in our country. This month the 16th and largest of the Mormon temples, situated in a Maryland suburb of our nation's capital, is opening its doors to public inspection. The magnificent, six-spired structure, sheathed in gleaming white marble, is expected to host nearly one million people prior to its dedication in November. It stands proudly against the skyline, symbol of a people's devotion to their God and of their deep concern with those things which pertain to Man's eternal existence.

Symbolizing also the respect with which the rapidly growing Mormon Church is now almost universally regarded, President Ford sat at the side of the current Mormon prophet - president, Spencer W. Kimball, as they listened together to the mighty Mormon Tabernacle Choir performing in concert during the ceremonies marking the temple opening.

It is good, for a change, to focus on that which elevates our minds and uplifts our spirits. Some of us dwell too much on the sordid and temporal aspects of life on earth. We need to be reminded that the struggles and problems, the triumphs and tragedies of this life may not be, after all, the things that really matter most when weighed against the perspective of eternity. The Mormons spread their faith and build their temples in the conviction that this is so.

We believe part of the reason that business and industry have been unable to get the story of enterprise across to the public can be laid at the doors of legislators and educators who have devoted their careers to telling voters and young people how lousy American businessmen are and how selfish private enterprise exploits consumers. As a result of this undercutting, there has been a slow erosion of confidence in the entire American system.

If it continues to follow the pattern of the past, it is likely industry and agriculture will continue to be blamed for every crisis. Each difficulty will be seized upon by those who advocate government ownership as a solution to give the American people the illusion of better days to come and conceal, in many cases, the past mistakes of government. Politicians bearing "free gifts" should be suspect as never before.

IRS GROWS ANOTHER HEAD

Taxpayers have long been conscious of Uncle Sam looking over their shoulders as they made out their return. He's now grown another head -- that of the state in which the taxpayers lives.

Presently, 48 states and the District of Columbia have "agreements of co-operation" with the federal Internal Revenue Service on the exchange of information about taxpayers, reports Commerce Clearing House. Only Nevada and Texas, which have no state income tax, lack such agreements.

The expanding use of automatic data processing equipment at both state and federal levels has sharply increased the amount and variety of information shared. Such is the interplay that an audit by the state tax collector can trigger one by the federal government as well.

Moreover, a growing number of states are basing their income tax laws on the Internal Revenue Code. This conformity between state and federal tax laws also increases the flow of information between the taxing authorities.

Now the states themselves are swapping information about tax returns. As of June, 1973, 21 states had signed a reciprocal exchange of information agreement designed by the Multistate Tax Commission.

If it is any consolation to taxpayers, Commerce Clearing tax returns are given special emphasis in these agreements.

WHY SHOULD HE HAVE LENIENCY?

Most of the young men President Nixon gathered about him have been convicted and gone to prison. Is there any reason why lenience should be shown the boss who advised with them daily? And his salary of $200,000 a year, plus free room and board, plus almost unlimited expense, plus huge amounts for the purchase of his California and Florida homes, were not enough pay him out. His attorney is asking Congress for some $800,000 to help him pay his debts.

THE NEWEST MODEL EDSEL

One of the most timely and interesting editorials we read in our exchanges last week was Mike Sell's paragraph in the Monroe City News headed. "Mr. Ford is an Edsel." We'll agree with Mike, if Jerry Ford continues as he has begun his time as President of the United States, he'll end up like the Ford Edsel. There was no more interested and enthusiastic backer of President Ford when he went into office than we were. He looked like the leader who would take us into the promised land. Of course we are a Democrat, but we think Teddy Roosevelt was one of the greatest, and Abraham Lincoln was the greatest President we have ever had. Both were Republicans, yet we are losing faith all the time with Gerald Ford.

Thinking over what we wrote above, we get our mind on today's "plea bargaining," a popular practice with our law enforcers. It is so easy for them to get a plea of guilty from a person charged with a crime, if the charge is reduced. Over at Quincy last week a man charged with stealing and also with escaping jail and assaulting an officer, made a plea of guilty when the charges of jail escape and assault were dropped.

IS 1972 MANDATE FINISHED UNDER FORD?

According to some political experts, Gerald Ford seems to be repudiating conservatism. And in rejecting conservatism, Ford, a President by chance rather than popular choice, is also rejecting the 1972 mandate, the last time the people in this country made their views felt on a nationwide basis.

In 1972, the Nixon Administration gathered their historic majority by taking stands wholly opposite to those of McGovern. They repeatedly opposed quotas, amnesty, liberalized abortion, busing, permissiveness, welfare spending and centralized government. Nixon opposed "any new spending program that would add to the tax burden of the American wage earner," wanted to reduce the property tax and offered tax credits for parents sending their children to parochial schools.

Furthermore a nationwide Gallup survey this spring showed that while the Republican party affiliation is at an all-time low, the number of voters who describe themselves as conservatives is at a record high.

In terms of political philosophy, noted Gallup, 38 per cent of the voters currently describe themselves as conservative, while only 26 per cent place themselves in the liberal camp, with 36 per cent undecided. The proportion classifying themselves as conservatives is the "highest record since the question was first asked in 1936."

The party breakdown by Gallup is even more interesting. In the Republican party, conservatives outnumber liberals 57 per cent to 11 per cent, with 32 per cent undecided. In the Democratic party, conservatives equalled liberals, 32 per cent to 32 per cent. And among the independents, conservatives outnumbered liberals 35 to 29, with 36 per cent undecided. When pressed, the majority of undecided voters called themselves conservatives.

Instead of downplaying conservatism, Ford should embrace it. Indeed, Gallup himself argued at the GOP Governor's Association in Memphis last year that his own surveys show the word "conservative" is far more popular than the word "Republican" and that "it might be better to have the name 'Conservative' than the name 'Republican' if one were running for office."

So since Ford is filling out the term that mandated this conservative change, he owes it to the American people, we think, to try to implement it.

Much has been said about election reform, and, while it is reported that passage of measures to restrict union campaign spending are considered unlikely, debate over the issue will help to draw public attention to the heavy hand of compulsion that rests on the shoulders of millions of American citizens who must join a union to buy the right to earn a living. Compulsory unionism infringes not only economic liberty but political liberty as well.

THE POWER OF NATURE

The tragedy left in the wake of hurricane Fifi serves to remind us all that the forces of nature can be cruel and are still unchecked by the science of man. As destructive as Fifi and some of her sisters have been, however, man's chances of survival are much better now than they were in earlier years and this is because of the great advances made in weather forecasting. Relief for survivors can be marshaled much faster, too.

From its very inception, the U.S. space program came under attack from some quarters, especially the ultra- liberal element which argued that it took dollars from the dole. The space shots have more than paid for themselves in advancing peaceful science, and that includes the amazing space satellites. Space platforms with highly sensitive photographic equipment record the weather patterns of the earth and feed them to the meteorological centers. Hurricane Fifi, for example, was exposed even when it was still in a "tropical low" formation and its development into a killer storm was constantly photographed. All the areas that would be its target were warned.

The mechanical satellites are not alone in this vital work. Planes and ships of the military services report the storm build-up. Daring military pilots plunge into the raging winds. All of these advanced means of detection are a tribute to our weather forecasting and allied services.

Meanwhile, research continues as the scientists seek ways of destroying killer storms. "Seeding" efforts have proved ineffective so far but eventually man probably will be able to control his environment. HLH

Secret United Nations: U.S. investigators reveal UN officials refuse to report on handling of huge funds

UNITED NATIONS— Very clever people, these Peking Chinese Communists. Though far from the Yangtze, they're successfully attempting to turn this multi- national glass tower into a prototype Forbidden City on the East River.

Led by Mao Tse-tung's special UN Ambassador Huang Hua, the mainland Chinese have been feuding with a door-sized gray marble slab which once hung in the second- floor corridor between the great Assembly Hall and the delegates' lounge. Reason: The big stone ornament was donated originally by the Republic of China (Taiwan). So U Thant, then UN Secretary General, eased the first crisis by removing from under the big stone a plaque saying that it was the gift of the Taipei government which, of course, has been ousted though anti-Communist China was among the founding forces at the 1945 United Nations organizaing session in San Francisco.

Then Mao outlawed Confucius. Which was unfortunate for the beautiful stone salb. It has the great sage's quotation, selected by the honored Sun Yat-sen, engraved on it. The words are of harmony and love of family, and advise on the selection of one's rulers for their talents. When the delegates gathered for the opening of the General Assembly's 29th session, the huge stone had disappeared. UN Secretary General Kurt Waldheim had ordered it removed.

Why? Officially no one knows. This is much like the rest of UN operations. There are two new special General Accounting Office (GAO) reports disclosing that it is virtually impossible to get documented information on the UN operations, on the affiliated subsidiary organizations such as the Children's Fund, the International Labor Organization, the World Health Organization, the UN Development Program and, of special interest right now, the UN Food and Agriculture Organization.

Bluntly the GAO has reported to Congressmen that the United States simply doesn't know what happens to the millions of dollars we pay in to the world organization, nor can it get authenticated information on vital operations in UN headquarters here or its special organizations abroad.

So there can be no doubt of the seriousness of the charges against the UN which makes such pretentious pronouncements, which now is so severely critical of the U.S., and in which the overwhelming majority of nations are ranged against the Western democracies and in favor of Communist lands and programs, here is what the respected GAO investigators say:

"The U.S. system for appraising proposed projects, monitoring their implementation and evaluating results is not meeting the needs for effectively managing participation in the organizations.

"Despite U.S. efforts to obtain better information on proposed activities, the quality and depth of information has not perceptibly improved." And in another GAO report there is a polite, but direct, statement that no one appears to know just how effectively the UN internal organization is operating. Says the GAO:

"(UN) Budget and review process weaknesses take on added significance, considering teh limitations in UN internal review report availability to member countries. The UN Joint Inspection Unit, the one review group reporting to members on substantive management and program issues, is not capable of providing them with adequate information on the effectiveness and efficiency of the United Nations."

There is no "relevant and reliable information on management proposals and performance" available.

Thus the UN under Kurt Waldheim is constantly pirouetting on the razor edge of bankruptcy. For example, member nations owe it $204 million in back dues and assessments. Many countries just don't pay up. We do. They withhold their money when they disagree with the purpose of a project, such as peacekeeping in the Middle East. We always pay. Regardless of policy.

Further, we can't get into the inner mechanism. The GAO says that the UN general secretariat (central administration) doesn't hire enough American citizens. Thus we are underrepresented in the daily operations of the UN here itself and in the affiliated organizations. The Russians are not. The Chinese are moving their people in as swiftly as they can train them. We have been fighting for a strengthened auditing and management operation to prevent what must in full realism be described as the seizure of the United Nations by the Communist and "third world" blocs -- despite the Sino- Soviet feuding.

This is being done by the handful of mysterious men and women wandering these corridors who control the inner management. Most organization evaluations are "either internal reviews, not generally reported to the governing bodies or fiscal reviews that contain little substace on management and administrative activities."

In less polite and more starkly realistic language, the United Nations is one big secret organization except for the up- front panoply.

To rip this open, we are fighting for a single independent review body. This is an effort to strengthen the UN Joint Inspection Unit. Its "capabilities, however, have not been improved -- it remains under- staffed, lacks permanent status, and suffers from inadequate leadership and direction."

Actually this smacks of more than inefficiency. Some might call it corruption. Why is there no real audit of moneys and operations? This UN internal secrecy is at the very least moral and political corrosion -- or corruption. Small wonder no one appears able to find even a big stone slab. All this would have confounded even Confucius.

JACK ANDERSON SAYS: Kennedy Kidnaping Scare

WASHINGTON — The public has yet to learn the full story behind the kidnaping scare that brought more than 60 Secret Service agents racing from all points of the country two weeks ago to protect the late Sen. Robert Kennedy's children. Here are the exclusive details:

The Secret Service's duties are strictly defined by law and do not include guarding the progeny of deceased Senators.

Yet for one full week, on orders from the White House, the agents provided emergency, round- the - clock protection for the Kennedy kids. Before the affair was over, the bodyguard service was also extended to a newphew, Christopher Lawford, son of actor Peter Lawford and Patricia Kennedy.

One agent, standing watch outside a Harvard University blowout attended by one of the boys, even suffered the indignity of having to duck a urinary sprinkle. A raucous party raged inside, and one of the partygoers urinated out the window.

The same agent later stood by in astonishment as local police descended upon the scene and barged past him into the building to quiet the reveling students.

The kidnaping threat, based upon a third- hand tip from a police informant in the Boston area, turned out to be bogus. By conservative estimate, the false alarm cost the taxpayers about $126,000.

The bizarre affair began on unlucky Friday, September 13. Some shady characters, according to the tip, had been talking about kidnaping David and Robert Kennedy, Jr., both of whom attend Harvard.

The information was relayed to the FBI, which immediately launched an investigation. Meanwhile, Ethel Kennedy, the anxious mother, was alerted. Her first thought, of course, was to protect her children. She knew from experience that the Secret Service has the world's best bodyguards, so she made an urgent request for federal protection.

Secret Service Director Stuart Knight, knowing he had no authority to protect the Kennedy children, agonized with his associates over the request. He personally drove out to the Kennedy estate in McLean, Va., to explain to Ethel how his hands were tied.

But he was overruled by his boss, Treasury Secretary William Simon, who took up the kidnaping threat with the White House. Back came word from presidential counselor Phil Buchen: protect the Kennedy kids.

Simon ordered the Secret Service into action on Saturday, September 14. Then he phoned Ethel Kennedy to reassure her.

My associate Joe Spear spoke with Simon, who said he had frequently been threatened with physical harm and, therefore, had "empathy for people in public life." Considering the suffering the Kennedy family has been through, he said, "this was one of the easier decisions I have ever made."

Word was received on Wednesday, September 18, that the supposed kidnapers really had their eye on Ethel Kennedy's nephew, Christopher Lawford, who attends Tufts University in Medford, Mass. So a protective detail was dispatched to cover the Lawford boy.

The intensive FBI investigation, meanwhile, turned up no substantial leads. So about 4:30 p.m. on Friday, September 20, the Secret Service protection was lifted.

Watergate Tactics: -- A holdover from ex- President Nixon's infamous "Attack Group" is using Watergate tactics to destroy a white civil servant who has sought to help the most downtrodden ghetto blacks.

The holdover is Edward Failor, now in charge of the Commerce Department's statistics, who controls a $100-million operation and 7,000 employes.

This was his reward for undeviating loyalty to the "Attack Group," headed by convicted White House aide Charles Colson. The group's purpose was to discredit 1972 Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern by unscrupulous but legal means.

Failor was first installed in a federal mine safety job which, according to the General Accounting Office, he fouled up. He was quietly moved over to the Commerce Department over the objections of professionals who considered him totally unqualified.

Internal memos show he is now using salami-style tactics to cut up a Census Bureau official, John Casserly, who has been seeking ways to get 1.8 million "missing Americans" to take part in the 1980 census.

These are the most depressed ghetto blacks who were not counted in 1970. Because they represent 7.7 per cent of all blacks, the entire black community lost millions in federal and state aid based on census statistics.

The memos show that Casserly took steps to get these "missing Americans" on the census rolls. For his efforts, he was summoned before Failor and was told his proposal was "stupid."

His voice rising, Failor said the proposal was a "huge mistake" and demanded to know whether Casserly had "any problems."

"I have no problems," replied Casserly.

"You may well have in the future," shot back Failor.

This turned out to be prophetic. Failor and his census chief, Vincent Barabba, a Nixon campaign pollster in 1972, began giving Casserly a bad time. His staff was slashed, and he came under sudden investigation.

FOOTNOTE: Failor conceded he called the Casserly proposal "stupid," but only because it was full of false statements. He admitted Casserly is in trouble because of his proposal, but said this is purely because it shows "bad judgment." Both Failor and Barabba defended their policies toward the blacks.

First quarter interest earns state $7 million

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The state earned $7.4 million in interest on investments for the first quarter of the 1974-75 fiscal year, state Treasurer James I. Spainhower said today.

That is $2.2 million higher then the first quarter of last year and was the highest amount ever earned by the state for a three-month period.

"A large portion of the increased interest is due to an investment procedure which results in an average of 90 to 95 per cent of available state funds in interest earning accounts," Spainhower said.

"When I took office 74 per cent of our funds were earning interest. We have increased that by about 20 points and are now taking full advantage of the prevailing high interest rates."

If state investments continue to earn at present interest rates, Spainhower said, the 1973-74 record $22.4 million in interest earnings may be surpassed.

"Over-all," Spainhower said, "the economic condition of Missouri's state government is very sound."

Caruthersville and are holding him for the murder.

Williams has admitted killing the woman, Stone said, but will make no further statement.

According to witnesses, Williams and the woman were struggling and wound up in the kitchen. Witnesses heard three shots fired, but nobody claims they actually saw the shooting, since it was back in the kitchen, Stone said.

The murder weapon was a .38 caliber pistol and is being held as evidence.

The woman also had a .38 caliber pistol, Stone said, but had fired no shots from it.

Charges have not been filed as of noon today. A spokesman for the prosecuting attorney's office said the matter is still being investigated.

Burglars got into the building through a window fan on the southwest side of the building.

World News

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica today ordered a separate Watergate cover-up trial for former White House aide Gordon Strachan.

The order leaves five defendants to face charges in the main cover-up trial scheduled to begin Tuesday.

The action had been requested by Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Sirica also was expected to rule today on whether he will allow typed transcripts to be used along with some 33 presidential tapes the prosecution wants as evidence at the trial.

Legislation to combat welfare fraud urged

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Legislation to combat welfare fraud and a federal government takeover of Aid to Dependent Children payments have been recommended by a Missouri Senate committee studying welfare.

The ADC payments in Missouri are $39 a month for the mother or guardian, $51 a month to the first child and $30 a month for each additional child.

Reduction of paperwork for welfare workers, giving more independence to county welfare offices and better treatment for welfare clients were among the recommendations released by the Senate Information Office.

Similar recommendations were made earlier by a House committee investigating welfare.

On the Senate committee are Democrats Robert Young of St. Ann, Raymond Howard of St. Louis, Mary Gant of Kansas City, Ike Skelton of Lexington, and Republicans Richard Webster of Carthage, Paul Bradshaw of Springfield and Emory Melton of Cassville.

Some of the recommendations, such as setting up a fraud squad, were endorsed by Lawrence Graham, new director of the Social Services Department.

"It seems to me, after these hearings, that our legislature should be reviewing big programs like this on an annual basis to make sure we're getting value received for our tax dollars," Young said.

One recommended law would eliminate the present property maximum of $10,500 for ADC families and provide instead a homestead exemption.

Also recommended was enough money for the attorney general to hire staff to enforce a strong antifraud law.

The committee also recommended including the natural father in the ADC unemployed parent program, and setting up a fund to pay for vocational job training for those on ADC.

The committee suggested the Senate Appropriations Committee review administrative practices of the Welfare Division, including duplication of staffing between programs and reduction of the eligibility and overpayment error rates to not more than 8 per cent.

A study last year showed the error rate for overpayments and ineligibles to be 21 per cent in Missouri.

Sen. Tinnin will push for death penalty bill

Veteran 25th District Sen. Nelson B. Tinnin of Hornersville, who has seen death penalty bills fall by the wayside in the past two sessions of the Missouri Legislature says he definitely supports such a law and will push for passage of a strong measure.

Tinnin made his comments in an interview with Daily Standard State Editor Ron Jaynes while attending the Truman Day rally Friday night at Poplar Bluff.

"The Supreme Court has ruled that state laws on death penalties must be specific," Tinnin noted as he spoke about Sikeston State Rep. C. F. Cline's recent announcement that he would present a bill in the next session of the legislature.

"His (Cline's) release on the subject more or less covered the waterfront on first-degree murder," Tinnin noted. "If one passes ... it must be specific. The jury has no say so in this matter, only to determine if the person or persons are guilty. If guilty, the penalty would be automatic."

Tinnin said previous measures have not been specific, which has one of the main reasons they were laid aside and failed to gain support.

"In 1973 and 74, we had a lot of opposition from criminal lawyers in the Senate," Tinnin stated. "In 1975, some of those won't be there.

"Both times death penalty measures were erased for time. We might have been able to pass one, but both sessions were short and other matters were placed before it.

"I definitely feel like it is a deterrent to crime," Tinnin said. "We'll have a nine-month session this time and the measure should come to a vote."

Tornado does minor damage

WARDELL — A tornado touched down in this area about 7:30 p.m. Saturday, causing minor damage, mostly to trees and power lines.

The most damage reported in town was a tree which blew down and fell across an unoccupied truck.

The tornado traveled in a northeasterly direction and touched down again on the Billy Welch farm two miles northeast of Wardell, overturning a cotton trailor and blowing over trees and power lines.

It also touched down four miles northeast of town on a farm owned by Billy Ward, destroying an unoccupied house trailer.

$1,256,589 grant approved

CHARLESTON — A grant of $1,256,589 has been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development for construction of 50 units of turnkey housing, according to an announcement issued Friday by the offices of Sens. Stuart Symington and Thomas Eagleton and Rep. Bill Burlison.

Tanna Parish, director of urban renewal in Charleston, said today the 50 units will be constructed in the city's west side urban renewal area north of Marshall Street.

Urban West Developers, Inc. of St. Louis will construct the units which will be purchased by the Charleston Housing Authority when completed.

A date for the start of construction has not been determined.

one mile east of Benton.

The accident occurred when a northbound car driven by Donald Rooks, 21, of Highland, Ind., attempted to pass a northbound station wagon driven by James Randolph Winter, 32, of Versailles, Pa., and struck it in the rear.

Injured was Albert Freeman Jr., 31, of St. Louis, a passenger in the Rooks car, who was treated for minor injuries at Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Three Caruthersville youths received minor injuries in a one-car accident at 5:30 p.m. Sunday on a gravel road three miles north of Hayti.

The accident occurred when a westbound car driven by Bryan Oatsvall, 18, of Caruthersville ran off a wooden bridge at a high rate of speed and overturned on its top.

Injured were three passengers in the car, Joey Richardson, 16, David Craig, 16, and Bruce Sams, 15, of Caruthersville. All three were taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital.

Two Hayti residents received minor injuries in a two-car accident at 5:10 p.m. Sunday on Braggadocio Road in Hayti Heights.

The patrol reported the accident occurred when James L. King, 25, of Hayti lost control of his car while traveling at a high rate of speed, and it slid sideways into the path of a southbound car driven by Edward Hightower, 45, of Hayti.

Injured were King and a passenger in the Hightower car, Lucy Mae Jones, 41, of Hayti. Both were taken to the Pemiscot County hospital.

Earl Ford, 83, of Ellington received minor injuries at 8:45 a.m. today on Route HH on top of Clearwater Dam when his eastbound car struck the back of a farm tractor driven by Charles Gentles, 55, of Piedmont.

The patrol reported that Ford apparently failed to notice the tractor soon enough and when he applied his brakes, the car skidded into the tractor.

He was taken to Wayne County Medical Center at Piedmont.

At Wits End By Erma Bombeck

I saw an ad in the paper the other day that intrigued me. It said simply, "WANTED: Christian woman to do ironing."

Is there any other kind who irons?

If someone had told me before I got married that I would stand like a statue for six hours every week in front of a board with three pounds of steam and heat in my right hand and push it back and forth over a PRIMO beer sweatshirt, I would have called off the wedding.

I once lived next door to a Christian woman who ironed. Every Monday she would put up her ironing board and wheel out one of those baskets on legs and iron each piece as it came. I could have watched her for hours.

She ironed sheets, dish towels, socks, belt buckles, underwear, the tongues in tennis shoes, the binding on blankets and even zippers. I never saw such a martyr. One day I couldn't believe my eyes. She pulled her husband's shirt out of the basket and after painstakingly ironing both sides of the collar and cuffs, she ironed the front and started to iron the back.

"Are you crazy?" I shouted, ripping the shirt off the board. "Now you've gone too far."

"What are you talking about?" she asked.

"Ironing the back of a man's shirt. Are you bucking for canonization?"

It is just not woman's natural inclination to take to ironing. One of my friends hired a woman to iron after the birth of her fourth child. She still retains her and the kid is 35 years old now.

Some hold theories that the aversion to ironing is genetic. This would seem to be the case as both my sister and I iron only during the months when oysters are in season -- off the coast of Thailand.

Our phone conversations run something like this:

"Joe needs a shirt."

"You going to iron one?"

"No, make one."

"When are you going to iron?"

"During the next space launch, providing the month has an R in it."

I'll tell you something,, world. When you are as behind in your ironing as I am, you'd settle for a woman who worshipped avocados during a full moon!

Surprise your little ones with a combination of their favorite foods. Combine one-fourth cup peanut butter and two tablespoons of lemon juice to make a smooth paste. Add one-third cup evaporated milk and one teaspoon honey and dash of salt. Blend thoroughly and chill. Spoon drained canned fruit cocktail into lettuce cups and top each serving with a generous portion of peanut butter dressing.

Marilyn Henderhan wed to Stobaugh

CANALOU — Marilyn Henderhan of Sikeston and Michael Stobaugh of Matthews were united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 30 in the Canalou Baptist Church. The Rev. Fred Ritter performed the double- ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leo Meiser of Williamstown, W. Va., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Stobaugh of Matthews.

Jan Helms of Matthews was pianist. Marki Ford of Cape Girardeau sang and accompanied herself on a guitar.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by Cline Ables of Sikeston, wore a formal gown of white crepe.

The gown featured an empire waist and a neckline with stand-up collar. The fitted bodice was accented with self- covered buttons down the front. The long bishop sleeves featured wide cuffs which were closed with covered buttons. The A-line skirt swept into a chapel-length train, and the gown was fully underlined.

The bride's hairpiece was of satin leaves and flowers with ribbons tied in love knots. She carried a bouquet of white roses and yellow daisies.

Mrs. Cathy Daniels of Matthews was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Deanna Tabor of Sikeston and Mrs. Debbie Estes of Shinnston, W. Va.

Chuck Daniels of Matthews was best man, and groomsmen were Lee Beck of Matthews and Steve McElyea of Sikeston.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church. Servers were Peggy Grissom of Charleston, Sharon Collins and Carla Richey of Sikeston and Pam Martin of Lowell, Ohio. Mrs. Judy Stobaugh of Matthews attended the guest register.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Stobaugh

Following a wedding trip to St. Louis, the couple is at home at 411B N. Kingshighway.

The new Mrs. Stobaugh teaches at Hearnes Elementary School in Charleston. Stobaugh is employed by Eby Distributing Co. in Matthews.

The bride is a graduate of Newport High School in Newport, Ohio, and Salem College, in Salem, W. Va. The groom is a graduate of Matthews High School.

Bakers observe 40th anniversary

CHAFFEE — An anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker was held Sept. 22 at their home.

Five of the couple's children and their families were present for the event which marked the couple's 40th wedding anniversary, including Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Francis of St. Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne White of Rockview, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Baker of Florrisant, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baker of Franklin, N. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Baker of St. Louis.

A two- layered cake made by a granddaughter was served along with punch and coffee.

UM—C offers competition in 8 sports for women

COLUMBIA — The most comprehensive women's athletic program in the history of University of Missouri - Columbia is under way as competition in eight sports is either in progress or in the planning stage.

The golf and field hockey teams have started their schedule, and both will be in action this week. The golfers battle Iowa State Friday and Saturday at Ames, and the field hockey squad is at home against Central Missouri State Friday. The 4:30 p.m. hockey encounter will be played on Ag Field at the intersection of College and Rollins.

UMC's volleyball team concluded tryouts last week. Coach Debbie Duren must select 18 players for the squad from 45 women trying out. The volleyball team opens at Central Missouri State Oct. 5.

Thirty-five women attended the initial organization meeting for swimming. Coach David Howell has provided a flexible practice schedule to allow individuals plenty of time to improve strokes and times. Swimmers are working with kick boards and pull buoys to achieve maximum leg and arm strength.

Track and field is the sport added to the women's agenda this year. Forty individuals, ranging from beginners to fairly seasoned tracksters, have indicated an interest in the program. UMC's men's track coach, Bob Teel, and the women's coach, Alexis Jarrett, met with the individuals at 7:30 p.m. Thursday to explain plans for the spring sport. Even though tryouts won't be held until January, the women will begin conditioning workouts on Tuesday.

Basketball practice also gets underway Tuesday, and will run for a four- week period. According to Coach Jarrett, practice will consist primarily of conditioning drills with emphasis on shooting, dribbling and floor work coming after team tryouts Oct. 28-31. The 18-member squad will comprise both A and B teams. The first Mizzou contests are Nov. 29- Dec. 1, when the Tigers travel to Springfield for the annual Turkey Tourney.

The number of women interested in the athletic program neared 300 when over 50 individuals attended the softball organizational meeting last week. Softball tryouts are scheduled for mid-winter.

For the life of it, bread and the "Day of Bread" deserve thoughtful consideration. Enriched bread is a perishable food. It is one of the few perishable products made from relatively non perishable ingredients-- like wheat and flour.

How bread is stored affects its eating qualities. Enriched bread may be stored in the refrigerator to retard mold, but the longer the refrigeration period, the firmer the bread becomes. Refrigeration tends to increase staling. Special wrappers or special containers do not offset the affects of cool temperature on bread freshness.

Freezing bread for a short time, however, keeps it in its fresh- from- the- oven condition, especially when reheated after thawing.

Lutheran women plan rally

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The Southeast Missouri zone of Lutheran Women's Missionary League will sponsor its 57th semi-annual rally on Oct. 9 at Hanover Lutheran Church, with the Rev. A. Rajaian, a native of India who attends Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, as featured speaker.

"Ye Shall be Witnesses" has been chosen as the theme for the rally which will begin at 10 a.m.

The Rev. Mr. Rajaian will speak on the theme, "Our Mission Concerns" and will highlight his presentation with slides.

The Rev. Mr. Rajaian was born in 1933 as a Hindu. In 1937, he, his parents and other members of the family became Christians, and he was educated in mission schools.

He received training at Concordia Seminary in Nagercoll, India, from 1961 to 1964. During 1964-1966 he served on a fellowship at the seminary, and from 1966 to 1969, he was pastor there. In 1970, the Rev. Mr. Rajaian earned his master of sacred theology degree from Concordia Seminary at St. Louis.

From September 1970 until recently, he served as professor at Concordia Seminary in Nagercoll, India. Currently, he is on study leave for one year for advanced studies in Old Testament on a scholarship from the World Mission Institute, which is sponsored by Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

The Rev. Mr. Rajaian is the father of six children. He will rejoin his family in India next year.

Glazed canned cling peaches will enhance most any entree. There are endless flavors of glazes but here are three suggestions--mint jelly, orange marmalade and red currant jelly. Add drained peaches, half cup jelly and heat, basting peaches with jelly. Serve warm.

Melody Phillips to wed H.L. Luscombe

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Phillips, 403 Daniel St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Melody Gail, to Harold Lyle Luscombe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Luscombe of Farmington, Mich.

Miss Phillips is a 1973 graduate of Sikeston High School and is employed at Kellett Oil Co.

Luscombe is a 1969 graduate of Southfield High School in Detroit and a 1972 graduate of Freed-Hardeman College in Henderson, Tenn., from which he received an associate of arts degree. He is currently minister of the Dudley Church of Christ.

Wedding plans are incomplete.

A new book by Dr. Erwin DiCyan, entitled "Vitamins In Your Life," concentrates on research findings since 1960 about food, nutrition and the need for vitamins and trace elements (micronutrients).

In this perplexing field, "yesterday's superstition becomes today's dogma, and conversely, yesterday's facts become today's delusions," Dr. DiCyan observes.

Family size declining

JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri is rapidly becoming a state of small families, according to birth statistics for the first half of 1974 reported by the Missouri Division of Health's Department of Social Services. The report indicated that decline in the state's overall birth rate has slowed this year but births in larger families continue to drop sharply.

Dr. Herbert R. Domke, director of the Division of Health, said 33,829 births were recorded in Missouri during the first six months of 1974, or only 1.2 per cent less than the 34,257 births during the same part of 1973. This decrease compared to over 5 per cent decline between 1972 and 1973.

Domke said the number of first, second and third children born during the first half of 1974 actually went up 1 per cent but this increase was offset by a 15 per cent decrease in fourth and higher orders of birth. He said there were 29,747 first, second and third births, 319 more than in 1973, but only 4,082 higher order births, 747 fewer than last year.

Garland Land, director of the Missouri Center for Health Statistics, reported that this trend to smaller families has been evident for the last 10 years. He pointed out that in 1964 almost one of every three Missouri births was a fourth or more child in the family, as compared to this year when only one birth in eight was the mother's fourth child or more. "If the trend continues," Land said, "families with four or five children may soon be as unusual as young families with eight or 10 children are now."

Land also reported that the composition of many Missouri families is changing due to the rising dissolution (divorce) rate. He said the 21,177 marriage dissolutions granted during 1973 cause the realignment of families that affected 23,137 children – infants to teen-agers.

The dissolutions last year resulted in more than 23,000 children living, at least temporarily, in families with only one parent present, which in most cases was the mother. The 1973 rate of 4.6 dissolutions for each 1,000 state residents set an all-time high for this statistic which was 59 per cent above the 2.9 rate in 1963 when 12,652 marriages were dissolved, affecting 14,071 children.

It had been predicted that the so-called "no-fault divorce" law, which became effective Jan. 1 of this year might accelerate the rising dissolution rate. However, no increase has been observed in provisional data for the first half of this year. The exact 1974 rate is not know, Land explained, due to widespread late reporting caused by new reporting procedures required in the law.

Domke said the sharp decline in fourth and higher orders of birth was statewide. In the St. Louis metropolitan area, these births accounted for 18 per cent of all births during 1971 but only 12.9 per cent in the first six months of 1974. In the Kansas City metro area, the percentage has dropped from 14.6 in 1971 to only 10.5 this year, while in outstate Missouri the decline has been from 16 to 12 per cent.

The St. Louis metro area had 13,059 births, down 1.1 per cent from 13,192 last year. Only 1,680 of the 1974 births were a fourth or more child in the family, a decrease of 15.5 per cent from the previous year.

Total births in the Kansas City metro area dropped 1.5 per cent, from 6,550 last year to 6,451 this year. Included were 680 fourth and higher order births, or 22.2 per cent less than in 1973.

A total of 14,319 births were reported from the rest of Missouri, excluding the two major metro areas. This was 1.3 per cent under the 14,514 births in 1973. Outstate births included 1,722 fourth and higher order children, a decrease of 12.5 per cent from one year earlier.

Lower repair costs by knowing auto

Dear Ann landers: The average citizen is being taken for a sucker because he can't help himself. I refer to being ripped off by automobile repair shops. The Progressive magazine (out of Madison, Wis). printed a very good article with suggestions on how Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public can protect themselves. I hope you will think it worth reprinting. Here it is --Midwest Reader:

"At a rundown gas station far from a major interstate highway, a greasy- faced mechanic lowers the hood on a hot '70 Malibu and grins, 'That will be $75, Soldier, plus parts.'

"With out -of -state plates on a downed car, you're at the mercy of the closest repair station. But this doesn't mean you'd get a better deal nearer your own home. It's all a part of 'The Great American Automobile Repair Ripoff.'

"If twenty -five billion crisp dollar bills were stacked in the Astrodome and the money was withdrawn only to pay for auto repairs, every buck would be gone in a year -a lot of them wasted.

"The best defense is to learn your automobile and how it functions. Considering how much money people tie up in their automobile, a basic course or two could certainly be considered an investment. In the meantime, play defensively. Here are some rules:

"Read warranties and guarantees carefully. Look for the loopholes that will cost you later.Do they include labor?

"Get an estimate before signing.

"Ask to see the flat -rate book and ask what the shop's hourly rate is. Don't let a dealer show you a commercial flat -rate book for repairs. Commercial books allow more time than factory books.

"Get the work order filled out in full before signing. Cross out all blank lines.

"Don't take verbal promises from anyone. Get it in writing.

"Don't let any shop take your transmission or engine apart until you're sure it needs it. Get another opinion from another shop.

"Avoid places that advertise heavily. The odds are against you. Good shops don't need to buy ads.

"Paint or scratch an identifying mark on major parts to prevent being sold your own gear.

"Don't be afraid to back out if the price sounds too high.

"IF the work isn't done properly, tell the hombre you intend to blow the whistle to the FTC, the DA's office, your state's Office of Consumer Affairs, the Better Business Bureau, and anybody else you can think of. Then do it. --Barney Halloran in Soldier's Magazine" (Reprinted In The progressive)

Only 22 college teams unbeaten

It would seem that way with the season less than a month old and only 22 of the 128 major teams still unbeaten and untied. Only 12 of the perfects come from among the so-called major powers.

That dignified dozen consists of North Carolina State at 4-0; Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Illinois, Kansas State, Michigan, Ohio State, Texas A&M and Tulane at 3-0 and Miami, Fla., and Oklahoma at 2-0.

The others are 4-0 New Mexico State; Arizona, East Carolina and Richmond at 3-0; Lamar and Temple at 2-0 and Cornell, Harvard, Penn at Yale at 1-0.

A wave of upsets inundated the ranks of the Top Twenty for the second week in a row. Among the victims were second-ranked Notre Dame, No. 6 Texas, seventh-rated Arizona State and two of the teams that made the Top Twenty via upsets last week—No.11 Wisconsin and No. 12 Baylor.

Notre Dame surrendered three touchdowns in the first seven minutes and bowed to Purdue 31-20. Texas opened its quest for a seventh consecutive Southwest Conference crown by losing to Texas Tech 26-3 and Arizona State was blanked 9-0 by Missouri.

Wisconsin, which knocked off Nebraska last week, lost to previously winless Colorado 24-21. Oklahoma State, which upset Arkansas, which upset Southern California, was in turn upset by previously winless Baylor 31-14.

Southern Cal, although ranked down in the No. 18 position, was a solid favorite over Pitt and defeated the eighth-ranked Panthers 16-7. Tennessee, No. 14, had an unpleasant first-ever visit to Auburn's campus, losing 21-0. Louisiana State, No. 17, tied unheralded Rice 10-10.

Among the top teams, No. 1 ranked Ohio State turned back Southern Methodist 28-9, third ranked Oklahoma stomped Utah State 72-3, No. 4 Alabama subdued Vanderbilt 23-10 and fifth-ranked Michigan sank Navy 52-0.

Elsewhere, Texas A&M, ranked ninth, downed Washington 28-15, No. 13 North Carolina State held off Syracuse 28-22, No. 15 Arizona squeezed past New Mexico 15-10, No. 16 Illinois nipped Washington State 21-19, No. 19 Penn State trounced Iowa 27-0 and No. 20 Miami of Florida shaded Tampa 28-26.

Purdue roared to a 24-0 firstperiod lead on Mike Terrizzi's one-yard run, Pete Gross' 52yard gallop, Bob Mannella's 21yard interception and Steve Schmidt's 47-yard field goal. No opponent in Notre Dame's storied football history had ever piled up 24 points in one quarter and the Irish never recovered.

Archie Griffin led Ohio State past SMU by rushing for 157 yards and two touchdowns while Brian Baschnagel added 144 yards on just seven carries.

Oklahoma exploded for six touchdowns and a 42-0 first-period lead against Utah State.

Calvin Culliver's 85-yard scoring gallop started Alabama over Vanderbilt.

Gordon Bell scored three touchdowns and Chuck Heater two as Michigan walloped Navy before a crowd of 104,232, second largest in college football history.

Texas Tech handed Texas its first SWC setback in 30 games and avenged last season's lone defeat as rookie quarterback Tommy Duniven rifled touchdown passes of 77, 15 and 18 yards to Lawrence Williams.

Ray Smith tossed an 18-yard touchdown pass to Mark Miller and Tim Gibbons kicked a 21yard field goal as Missouri handed Arizona State its first shutout in 97 games.

Southern Cal held All-American Tony Dorsett to 59 yards, lowest of his career but enough to smash Pitt's career record in only his 15th varsity game.

Skip Walker led Texas A&M past Washington with touchdown runs of three, 21 and 61 yards in the first half.

Colorado blew a 10-0 lead, then rallied to beat Wisconsin behind the running of Billy Waddy, who gained 151 yards and scored the winning TD early in the fourth period.

Steve Beaird scored three times, twice on passes from Neal Jeffrey, in Baylor's upset of Oklahoma State. Roland Hooks' three tallies paced N.C. State over Syracuse and Auburn's Kenny Burks scored all three touchdowns as the Tigers handed Tennessee its first shutout in 54 games.

Rusty Jackson's 27-yard field goal with three seconds left enabled LSU to tie Rice. Penn State held Iowa without a first down for three periods and got two touchdowns from reserve tailback Dave Stutts, a fourthstring tight end a week ago.

Miami's Kary Baker scored once and passed for a touchdown while Don Martin ran for two scores in the Hurricanes' squeaker over Tampa.

College football's oldest rivals, Princeton and Rutgers, battled to a 6-6 standoff that included one of the weirdest endings ever. Princeton scored with 22 seconds left but Rutgers partisans had torn down both goalposts—at Princeton's Palmer Stadium—with two minutes to go. The officials ruled the Tigers had to try a two-point conversion and the pass trickled off the fingertips of the intended receiver.

8th graders win opener

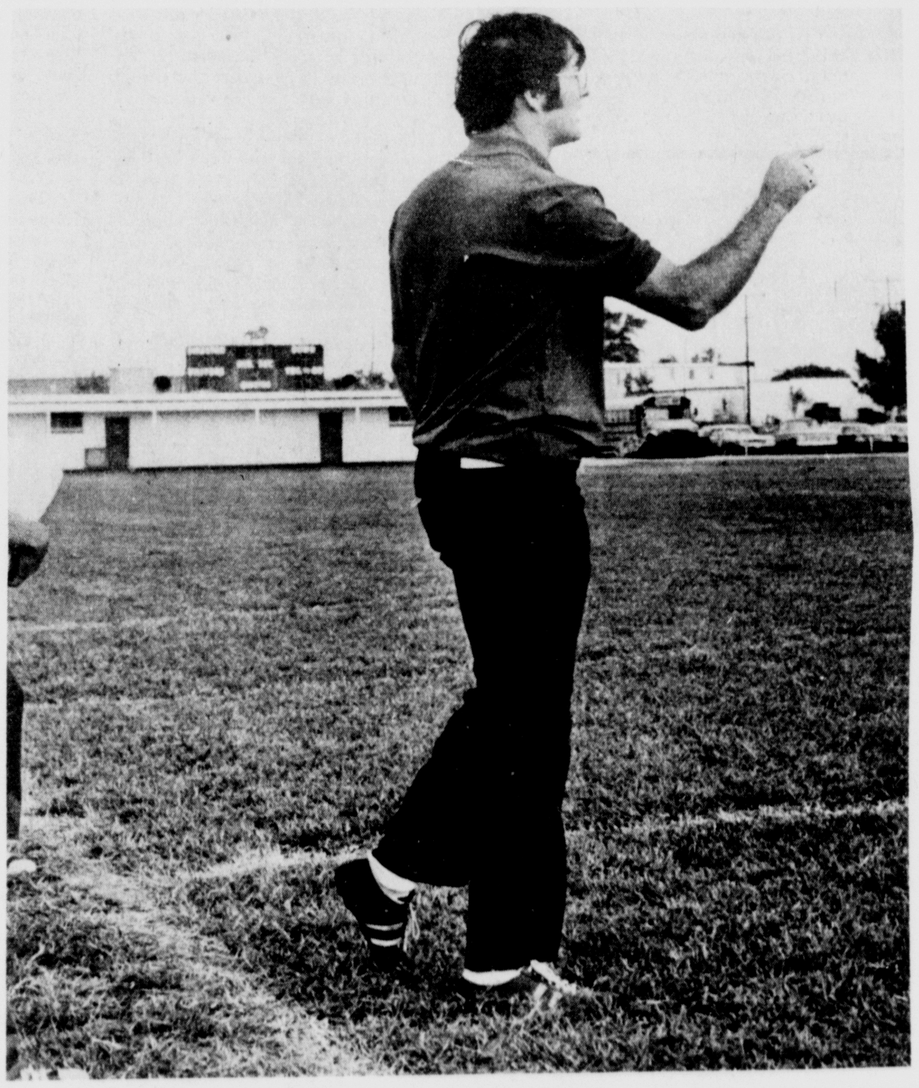
Coach John Heacox's eight grade football team become the first Sikeston team to win a home game this season as they downed the Perryville Pirates 26-6 Saturday afternoon. It was the opening game for the team.

Sikeston actually rapped up the game in the opening quarter as the little Bulldogs surprised Perryville with a pitchout from Jay Cox to Gary Leonard for 30 yards and a 6-0 lead. Sikeston had just fell on a kickoff that traveled 10 yards untouched by the Pirates.

Sikeston held Perryville in check the next series of downs and took over just long enough for Dwight Mills to break loose for a 30 yard score over left tackle.

Sikeston scored their third touchdown of the game on a pitchout from quarterback Alan Barbrick to Dwight Mills for 20 yards. The half ended with Sikeston leading 20-0.

Perryville scored in the fourth period after a fumble recovery on the Sikeston 20 yard line. With Sikeston leading 20-6, the Bulldogs were forced to punt and recovered a fumble on the 10 where Barbrick sneaked over from the two yard line.



Coach points it out

Sikeston eighth grade football coach, John Heacox, points out instructions during Saturday's season opening game at public school stadium. The Bulldogs won, thus marking up the towns first home victory of the season.

Mizzou stops Devils

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — "The muddy field was no factor," Arizona State's Coach Frank Kush said. "It was muddy at both ends."

And, having watched his seventh-ranked Sun Devils lose 9-0 to underdog Missouri, the 46-year-old Kush was inclined Saturday first to praise the victor.

"We never could get our offense untracked," conceded Kush, whose high-powered team was restricted to 232 yards on rain-slickened Faurot Field.

"But you've got to give Missouri credit," he insisted. "They just beat the heck out of us on offense and defense."

The shutout was Arizona State's first in 97 games, extending to a 13-0 loss suffered against Utah State in 1965.

In administering it, Missouri capitalized on four pass interceptions to contain the Sun Devil attack and converted one of its own mistakes to a touchdown.

Arizona State's Don Breunig intercepted a Ray Smith pass on the final play of the opening quarter but fumbled at the ASU 37.

Mark Miller recovered for Mizzou and two plays later sped to the Sun Devil 18 on a wingback reverse. Following an incompletion, Miller then snared Smith's touchdown pass.

A third-quarter ASU drive was thwarted by Tiger safety Tony Gillick's interception before Gillick returned a punt 27 yards to the Sun Devil 38.

Smith rifled a 14-yard pass to split end Henry Marshall, reserve Tony Galbreath carried four times to the ASU 3 and Tim Gibbons kicked a 21-yard field goal.

"I know I've said this many times, but our kids gave more than they had," said Missouri Coach Al Onofrio, whose team improved its record to 2-1.

"Our players had a special look before the game," Onofrio said, "and at no time during the game was there anything but fire in their eyes."

The triumph avenged a 49-35 loss to ASU suffered by Missouri in the 1972 Fiesta Bowl and set the Tigers up for a Saturday game against Wisconsin in Madison.

"We've improved every week and I hope we continue to improve," Onofrio, said. "With our type schedule we have to."

"We've got a lot of work to do," noted Kush, whose Sun Devils begin their quest for a Western Athletic Conference title at Wyoming this week.

"Our record is 2-1 and before the season that would have looked pretty good," he noted. "But not now."

SEMO loses, 17-6

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Undefeated University of Evansville (Ind.) took advantage of some second half miscues by its Southeast Missouri State University hosts Saturday evening and rolled up its third straight win of the season while dropping the Indians to 1-2 behind a 17-6 victory.

Coach Jim Lohr's Indians rode the foot of Mike Wood to a 6-0 first half lead on field goal kicks of 42 and 37 yards.

Evansville scored all of its points in the third quarter, marching 73 yards after receiving the second half kickoff for its first touchdown. Jim Pandoli's 14-yard scoring run and preceeding extra point gave Evansville a 7-6 lead. Less than two minutes later, Evansville recovered a Southeast Missouri fumble on the Indians' 32 and Virgil Bufford scored a touchdown on the next play.

FAIRFAX, Calif. (AP) — When a builder proposed tennis courts in this area, he immediately received protests from residents claiming the construction work would cause too much dust and noise. He had a ready response.

Standard leads LL football

By EARL HENDERSON

The second week of little league football was played at Middle School Field Saturday. Rain and all, a large crowd was on hand to see The Daily Standard team take over sole possession of first place. The Daily Standard team defeated National Lock 15-0. In the other game played the Jaycee team defeated the Bank of Sikeston team 25-0.

In the first game at 1:30 Saturday the Bank of Sikeston team looked as if they were to give the JC's all they wanted in the first quarter. Late in the first period, the JC quarterback engineered a drive which had him skirt right end for a twenty yard score.

Early in the second quarter JC quarterback David Bizzel again carried the ball around left end for a two yard score. Both conversion attempts failed and JC's led 12-0. With two minutes left in the half Ricky Leonard of the JC's blocked a Bank of Sikeston punt on the ten. Bank of Sikeston held and the half ended in a 12-0 lead for the Jaycees.

In the third and fourth quarter Bank of Sikeston gave the Jaycee's a good ball game. With two minutes to play the Bank team tried two passes and both were intercepted, and resulted in scores for the Jaycees. JC's Daniel Hampton picked off one and scored and Dennis Frazier picked off the second one and scored. Ricky Leonard ran one PAT over the final score was Jaycees 25 Bank of Sikeston 0.

In the battle of undefeated teams in the second game The Daily Standard and National Lock teams could not get their offenses going in the first half. Defensively both teams played well and at the half it was 0-0.

When the third quarter teams started it was a different story. Daily Standard forced the Lock team to punt. Lock couldn't get the punt off before a Standard player had him tackled in the end zone for a safety. Lock kicked-off and Daily Standard marched right down the field and quarterback Fred Tope scored on a quarterback sneek. Standard led 8-0 at this point. Lock marched down the field and was on the Standard one when they fumbled. Lock and Standard exchanged a couple of fumbles, and Standard got it all together late in the fourth quarter. Quarterback Harry Tope skirted right end on a quarterback sweep and scored on a fifty yard run. Right halfback Terry Duncan made the point after and Standard held on to shut out National Lock 15-0.

Birds go North for final series

CHICAGO (AP) — Catcher Ted Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals sloughed off congratulations on driving in his 100th run of the season. "It's all even now, baby," said Simmons. "It's what is more important."

Even it is.

The St. Louis Cardinals, getting a pinch three-run homer from Jose Cruz in the sixth inning rode to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs and climbed into a first-place tie with Pittsburgh in the National League East race.

The Pirates dropped a 7-2 decision to the New York Mets leaving each contender with three games to play. The Pirates go home for a series with the Cubs and the Cardinals wind up the season at Montreal.

"I don't think anybody has an advantage now," said Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst in reference to questions about the Cardinals finishing on the road while the Pirates are home.

"You just have to win, that's all," he said. "We play as well on the road as we do at home.

"Montreal scores more runs than some other teams, so that means we'll need a lot of pitching," said Schoendienst. "I just hope the weather is good up there."

Schoendienst conceded that it is highly probable that the two teams could end up in a first place tie which would necessitate a one-game playoff in Pittsburgh Thursday afternoon.

"Cruz' homer was the big hit," said Schoendienst, "but he's had some big hits for us through the years."

Cruz called it "my biggest homer ever" and said he had been hitting the ball exceptionally well in batting practice throughout the series. "It was a Puerto Rican fastball," laughed the native of Arroyo, P.R.

Except for an error by Cub shortstop Don Kessinger, Cruz might not have batted in the sixth inning when the Cardinals clinched their game-scoring four runs, all of them unearned.

With one run in as the result of a throwing error by pitcher Steve Stone, Ted Sizemore came up with two outs and a man on base. Sizemore hit a pop to Kessinger who dropped the ball for an error, setting the stage for Cruz fifth homer of the year.

The Cardinals never trailed in the game. Simmons singled home a run in the first but the Cubs came back to tie it in the bottom of the first on two singles and an error.

Joe Torre singled home a run in the Cardinal second and Lou Brock made it 3-1 with a runscoring single in the fourth. Brock then stole his 118th base—15th against Chicago, which is the only team not to have nailed the Cardinal thief at least once during the season.

Big Red speed prevails

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "I think maybe this time we're real," a pleased Terry Metcalf of the St. Louis Cardinals said.

And the Cleveland Browns were in no mood to argue Sunday after Metcalf's flying feet and those of Mel Gray left them with a 29-7 loss in the National Football League.

Cleveland thereupon retaliated only to have Gray apply a knockout punch by catching a 68-yard touchdown pass.

"The big play was the bomb," acknowledged Brown's Coach Nick Skorich, who referred to Gray's reception of a Jim Hart aerial.

"The kickoff return hurt," Skorich conceded, "but we were back in the game after a couple of plays. Then that took the starch out of us."

Cleveland trailed 7-0 when Metcalf fielded the third quarter kickoff and headed for the right sideline.

Cleveland quickly cast Greg Pruitt in an aerial role and closed to 14-7 on Pruitt's 55-yard halfback pass to Gloster Richardson.

But Hart, who completed only four of 11 passes, went long on the Cards' next play and was on target to Gray, a former collegiate sprinter.

A 44-yard Jim Bakken field goal then followed Metcalf's punt return to the Browns' 47 and Donny Anderson's one-yard touchdown run capped a 22-point St. Louis third quarter.

At least partially echoing Skorich on the effect of the Hart-Gray bomb was Browns quarterback Mike Phipps.

"You can't really say that was the game," maintained Phipps, who was earlier victimized by Norm Thompson's 56-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass, "but so many big plays went against us."

"We talked about it at the half and decided to try it," said Hart, who threw the bomb. "I was open and Jim put the ball there," Gray said.

Brock, McBride receive threats

CHICAGO (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals have taken added security measures to protect two players, outfielders Lou Brock and Bake McBride, whose lives have been threatened.

Brock revealed during a Sunday news conference details of a letter threatening him and McBride. Brock said he was sure the threat had affected his play but "to what extent I don't know."

He said information concerning the letter had leaked out and he felt the best way to relieve some of the pressure on him was to make details of the threat known.

Bing Devine, Cardinals' general manager, attended the news conference to detail security measures taken in St. Louis, Chicago and Montreal, where the Cards wind up their regular season in a three-game series starting today.

The letter, dated Sept. 18, had a Sept. 19 St. Louis postmark and was received by the Cardinals Sept. 20. It contained numerous racial slurs and much obscene language.

It said in part:

"By beating out the Pirates this year you're costing me a $50,000.00 winnings I would have had as the result of a bet at large odds I placed on them to win back in April when they were already counted out even by the oddsmakers.

"This is no idle threat: If I think so I can assure you that neither of you...will live past the 3rd, 4th, or 5th playoff game whether it be in L.A. or Cincy."

The writer said he suffers from an inoperable brain tumor and has only a month or two to live. He said he wanted to leave his wife and children the $50,000, but the Cardinals took it away from him.

"I'll have a revolver loaded with six shots and be in the stands close enough to get you both and save the last shot for myself since suicide is my only way out—unspeakable agony is not going to be mine," the letter said.

Orioles hold on in AL East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Yankees are on a treadmill—they keep winning, but they just can't catch up with the Baltimore Orioles.

Graig Nettles belted two home runs and Rudy May pitched a four-hitter to help the Yankees post their fourth consecutive victory, a 10-0 romp over the Cleveland Indians Sunday.

But Baltimore remained one-half game ahead of the Yankees in the chase for the American League East flag by nipping the Milwaukee Brewers 43, the winning run scoring on four walks in the ninth inning.

Baltimore, 88-71, has three games left in the regular season, at Detroit Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The Yankees, 88-72, have two games left, at Milwaukee Tuesday and Wednesday.

May struck out 13 in pitching his first complete game since joining the Yankees from the California Angels June 15.

New York scored two runs in the first against former Yankee Fritz Peterson, then broke it open with four runs in the third. Lou Piniella scored the first run of the inning on an error by left fielder Joe Lis, Sandy Alomar stroked a runscoring single and relief pitcher Milt Wilcox gave up bases-loaded walks to Elliott Maddox and Murcer.

Nettles hit his first home run of the game in the fourth inning, Piniella and Thurman Munson delivered RBI singles in the fifth and Nettles hit his 22nd home run of the season in the sixth, making it 10-0.

Orioles 4, Brewers 3

"Let's have a laugher," said Doog Powell, whose bases-loaded walk in the ninth gave the Orioles their sixth victory in a row and 25th in 31 starts down the stretch. "My heart can't take much more of this."

Milwaukee starter Jim Slaton, 13-16, struck out Mark Belanger—his 10th strikeout of the game—leading off the Orioles' ninth, then issued three walks to load the bases.

Tigers 7, Red Sox 4

Al Kaline, honored in pregame ceremonies for having collected his 3,000th career hit last week, drove a run-scoring single to highlight a four-run sixth inning for the Tigers.

A's 3, White Sox 2

Reserve second basemn Manny Trillo stroked a pair of runscoring singles to lead Oakland over Chicago.

Angels 4, Twins 0

Andy Hassler scattered five singles to pitch California to victory over the Twins, who were victimized by Nolan Ryan's no-hitter Saturday night.

Rangers 5, Royals 0

Jim Spencer's two-run homer backed the six-hit pitching of Bill Hands for the Rangers.

Today in U. S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Sept. 30, the 273rd day of 1974. There are 92 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1954, the first atomic-powered vessel, the submarine, "Nautilus," was commissioned by the U.S. Navy.

On this date —

In 1787, the sailing ship "Columbia" left Boston on the first voyage around the world by an American ship.

In 1846, ether was used for the first time as an anesthetic by a Boston dentist, Dr. William Morton.

In 1882, the first hydroelectric power station in the United States was opened at Appleton, Wis.

In 1938, at a meeting in Munich, Germany, British and French leaders agreed to Nazi Germany's annexation of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland.

In 1946, an international military tribunal in Nuremberg, Germany, found 22 top German Nazi leaders guilty of war crimes. Eleven were sentenced to death.

In 1955, the French delegation to the U.N. General Assembly walked out after the Assembly voted to take up the question of unrest in Algeria.

Ten years ago: In southeastern India, a rain-swollen reservoir burst, sending a wall of water through the town of Macheria and leaving an estimated death toll of 36.

Five years ago: A withdrawal of U.S. forces from Southeast Asia gained momentum with the announced withdrawal of 6,000 troops from Thailand and the departure of 1,000 more Marines from Vietnam.

One year ago: West German Chancellor Willy Brandt cut short a visit to the United States to return to Bonn to deal with domestic controveries.

The case of the disputed ring

By: JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Mary -Loo took Bernie like Grant took Richmond. After only 10 minutes together at a party, he fell madly in love with her. In fact, after only several weeks of knowing her, he gave Mary -Loo a gigantic diamond engagement ring.

There was, however, one minor problem that confronted romantic Bernie. He was already married. Undaunted, he merely promised Mary -Loo that he would divorce his wife and then be free to marry her.

After several months, however, Mary -Loo decided that Bernie's promise carried a lot of wait. He wasn't divorced and she figured she wasn't going to wait any longer. Consequently, she canceled the engagement and Bernie demanded the return of his ring. When it wasn't forthcoming, he sued to get it back.

"When a girl breaks an engagement," he argued in court, "she's got to give back all engagement gifts, since they're given to her only on condition that she goes through with the wedding."

"But Bernie was in no condition to marry me when he gave me the ring," was Mary -Loo's answer. "He was still married. Consequently, how could any gift he gave me be conditioned on my marrying him?"

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make Mary -Loo give back the ring?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that an agreement to marry when one of the parties is already married is void as against public policy ..and it is not saved or rendered valid because the married individual contemplates a divorce. Consequently, concluded the judge, when a married man gives a girl an engagement ring, he cannot recover it even if the engagement is broken by the woman.

Museum work progresses

NEW MADRID — Renovation work is progressing at the future city museum building, and several major improvements have been completed.

Mrs. Dot Halstead, co-chairman of the building committee, said a generous donation of concrete by Ray Clinton of St. Jude Building Materials Inc. provided a new concrete floor and a concrete drain that was installed along the south side of the building.

The committee plans now to proceed with getting the exterior bricking and painting done, Mrs. Halstead said.

Other major repairs noted by Mrs. Halstead include installation of all new plumbing and sewer pipes, repair and tarring of the roof by Loyd Robinette, who donated his labor; construction of an overhang across the back of the building; and erection of a fence partially across the back of the property.

In addition, the grounds have been cleared and cleaned of debris and mowed.

The New Madrid city museum project was the subject of an article in a recent publication of the Missouri Museums Associates Newsletter, which stated "New Madrid is to be commended on this ambitious project which has already received many hours of donated help."

Concrete for a new floor in the New Madrid city museum building, which is undergoing extensive renovation, was recently donated by Ray Clinton of St. Jude Building Materials Inc.

Bond proclaims October as pork month

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Gov. Christopher S. Bond signed a proclamation Thursday designating October as pork month in Missouri.

Officials of the Missouri Pork Producers Association and the state Agriculture Department attended the signing ceremony. They also arranged a noon barbecue on the lawn of the governor's mansion for state officials and legislators.

"The swine industry is important to every state in the nation, and especially to Missouri as the feeder pig capital of the world," Bond said.

Bicentennial flag to be presented

NEW MADRID — A Bicentennial flag will be presented to the city in ceremonies scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Friday on Main Street. The presentation will be made by Ken White, executive secretary of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Missouri.

New Madrid was approved and designated a Bicentennial City by the Bicentennial Board in Washington, D.C., following the formation of a city Bicentennial Commission to plan activities to honor the nation's past, present and future.

Friday's program is the first in a series planned by the New Madrid Bicentennial Commission in connection with the nationwide celebration of the 200th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence.

The program will open with a presentation of the colors by American Legion members of Brown- Twitty Post 595. The New Madrid High School band, directed by Robert Donze, will play the National Anthem, and the invocation will be given by the Rev. Edward Watkins, pastor of First United Methodist Church.

Mayor Jim Cravens will extend welcoming remarks and a solo, "America, the Beautiful.", will be sung by Mrs. Edward Watkins.

Special guests will be introduced by Larry Rost, followed by the presentation of the Bicentennial flag to the mayor.

Mrs. Watkins will sing, "God Bless America", and the program will close with a benediction by the Rev. Douglas Baker, pastor of the New Madrid Baptist Church.

A powerful - Bulldog - line, with the presence of three fleet backs, Rogers, Arnold, and Walker, and fine team direction and blocking by halfback Greer, combined to give the Sikeston High School football team a splashing victory over East Prairie Friday by the score of 26 to 0 to make a running start in what promises to be a lively season.

Margaret Ann Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Parks, celebrated her fourth birthday last Tuesday with a party at her home.

Morley --Cpl. Carmen (Pug) Mize has been home on furlough visiting his brother, Bill Mize of Morley. Mrs. Mize was with her husband but they returned to his camp Sunday.

Matthews --Mrs. Jessie Lomax of Risco has been spending the past two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Haddie Cannon, and Mrs. Vina Haynes. She returned to her home at [illegible] Sunday.

Lawrence Strock, 74 years old. of Benton died Wednesday at St. Francis Hospital in Cape.

Little Julia Deneke Summers experienced her first birthday party Saturday when she was one year old that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kirn of Sikeston are parents of a daughter born Saturday at Cape Osteppathis Hospital .

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Stehr of Oran Friday at St. Francis Hospital in Cape.

Halfback Arlen Powell, upon whose shoulders rests the hope of seeing the Charleston Bluejays finish with their best Big Eight season in several years, is currently pacing the Southeast Missouri scorers with 42 points. Quarterback Tom Thrower is second high scorer in the area and tops the Little Six with 27 points and Terry Cooper of Sikeston, is tied for fourth with three others in the Big Eight with 18 points.

James Beaird of Paragould, Ark., who was recently engaged by the Chamber of Commerce as manager, will arrive in Sikeston this weekend to assume his new position.

Exchange student at Bernie

By MARK GEERS

BERNIE — Most of us never give a thought to the problems involved in learning the English language. Sure, we've heard that some philologists maintain that English is one of the most difficult languages to master, even harder than Chinese or Russian. But we just sort of grew up with it. Mastery came so easily, we scarecely gave it a second thought.

Ignacio arrived in Bernie Monday to live with Principal Don Lee and his family while attending the Bernie High School. But before he begins his regularly scheduled classes, he must learn English. The hard way.

"Ignacio is 19 years old, and he came here with the intention of learning English," Lee said. "Right now, he knows no English at all; he is starting from scratch. Several of our high school Spanish students are tutoring him now, to prepare him for eventual entrance into a normal class."

This illustrates one of the most attractive features of the International Student Exchange Program, the program that sponsored Zuloaga's stay here. Ignacio will learn English and a great deal about life in America; his tutors will learn more than a little Spanish from him and will benefit from such close exposure to someone from another culture.

Zuloaga's home is a ranch about a four-hour ride from Mexico City. Presumably, the differences between a Mexican "rancho" and a Bootheel town are great, but from Lee's account, Ignacio seems to be coping well.

In a couple weeks when he learns a bit more English (or in the unlikely event I learn some Spanish) I will ask him about it.

Waters pledges Lambda Chi

JACKSON, Miss. — Seventy- five men at Millsaps College have accepted bids offered by the College's four social fraternities this fall; according to David Anderson of Greenville, president of the Inter- fraternity Council.

Prayer for today

from the Upper Room

"Happy is that people, whose God is the Lord." (Psalm 144:15)

PRAYER: O God, we thank You for the fellowship of believers. Thank You for the instances in which they have created within me a new spiritual awareness and shown me the way to have a closer walk with You. Amen.

2. Card of Thanks

We wish to express to all of our friends our most sincere thanks for all the kindness you have shown our family in the loss of our dear Husband, Father and Brother, Arnold Stehr. Our thanks to Dr. Harold Ridings, The Sisters and nurses of St. Francis Hospital, to all who gave spiritual bouquets, flowers, cards to those who brought food and to those who came by and offered kind words of encouragement. To those who remembered us with your prayers, to the Amick Burnett Funeral Home, to Rev. Richard Rowling for his beautiful and consoling message, to Father James Holmes and Father Joseph LeGrand, to the pall bearers, to the Knight of Columbus Council 4311 Oran for the beautiful prayer service and to all the others who have been so wonderful to us. May God richly bless each of you for all your deeds of kindness.

Mrs. Arnold Stehr, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stehr, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Diebold, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller
